

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document provides a detailed list of items that should be tracked, such as inventory levels, accounts payable, and accounts receivable. It also outlines the procedures for recording these transactions, including the use of double-entry bookkeeping and the importance of regular reconciliations. The second part of the document focuses on the analysis of the recorded data. It explains how to calculate key financial ratios and indicators, such as the gross profit margin, net profit margin, and current ratio. These metrics are used to assess the company's financial health and performance over time. The document also discusses the importance of comparing these results with industry benchmarks and historical data to identify trends and areas for improvement. Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the key findings and recommendations. It stresses the need for ongoing monitoring and reporting to ensure that the company remains financially sound and profitable. The document is intended for use by management and other stakeholders who are responsible for the company's financial operations.

Original Letters
AND Authentick Papers, Relating to the REBELLION, 1715.

EDINBURGH:
Printed for the Publisher, and sold by several Booksellers in Town, 1730.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities related to the business. It emphasizes the need for transparency and accountability, particularly in the context of financial reporting and tax compliance. The text highlights that proper record-keeping is essential for identifying trends, managing risks, and ensuring the long-term sustainability of the organization.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the role of internal controls in preventing fraud and ensuring the integrity of financial data. It outlines key components of a robust internal control system, including segregation of duties, authorization procedures, and regular audits. The text stresses that these controls are not only necessary for protecting assets but also for providing stakeholders with confidence in the organization's financial statements.

3. The third part of the document addresses the challenges of data security and privacy in the digital age. It discusses the risks associated with data breaches and the importance of implementing strong cybersecurity measures. The text recommends regular security assessments, employee training, and the use of encryption to protect sensitive information. Additionally, it highlights the need for compliance with relevant data protection regulations to avoid legal consequences.

4. The fourth part of the document explores the impact of technology on business operations and decision-making. It discusses how digital tools and automation can improve efficiency, reduce costs, and provide valuable insights through data analytics. The text encourages organizations to embrace innovation and invest in technology to stay competitive in a rapidly changing market. It also notes the importance of ensuring that technology is used responsibly and ethically.

5. The fifth and final part of the document provides a summary of the key points discussed and offers recommendations for future action. It reiterates the importance of a proactive approach to risk management and the need for continuous improvement. The text concludes by encouraging organizations to foster a culture of transparency, accountability, and innovation to achieve long-term success.

*W*hile I was casting in my Thoughts how to give the Publick the Use of that Part of the Occurrences of the Years 1715 and 1716, arising from what's contain'd in the following Sheets, the Original or authentick Vouchers whereof having fallen in my Hands by a Gift of a creditable Gentleman, I came from a few of many Reasons to be determined to publish nothing but true Copies, without any Mixture or Observations of my own, few Writers or Publishers keeping within just Bounds, thereby taking upon them to direct their Readers Judgment.

1st Reason, I take from the Author of the History of the Sufferings of the Church of Scotland, from the Restoration to the Revolution. He a gives

gives us an omne gatherum, many of which Prudence would have kept back. He appears to print with some Zeal the Declaration King Charles II. was obliged to sign anno 1650 at Dunfermline. Had he considered the Remarks made by the English on that Declaration, and on Four Letters written by a noble Lord at that Time; or had he look'd into the - Memoirs called Hamilton's, Page 201, anno 1642, where Mention is made of a Paper inviting over the Queen, then in Holland, assuring her of the free Exercise of her Religion, the chief Signers of this Paper were the Promoters of the above Declaration, wherein the Royal Family is accused of Idolatry: Or, had he consulted the State of the Kirk anno 1649, 1650, 1651 and 1652, he might have followed the wise Resolution of the Reverend Ministers of these Times, alive at the Revolution, viz. Let all Remembrance of Differences be from hence forth buried. Among the many Letters he prints, there is one of the 9th June 1660, from several Reverend Ministers to Mr. Sharp upon the King's Restoration, telling, That he was gifted to the People as a Return to their Prayers; which may show them good Men. But his following History shows they were not Prophets.

2d Reason, Is from that great Author B. B. his Inadvertencies, some of which will bear to be called Indecencies, in the Memoirs of Hamilton. He gives us Letters of K. Cha. I. which may be considered how far they agree, and if for the King's Honour,

Honour, they should have been printed, Letters June 11th, 13th, 20th and 25th, 1638, and Instructions with Orders September 9th 1638 when compared. In others of his Writings he says, the Stewarts bore Misfortunes better than Prosperity, and King Charles first's Reign both in Peace and War was a continual Series of Errors. This Author gives us great Encomiums of Mr. Lighton, sometime Archbishop of Glasgow, forgetting, or not knowing that Mr. Lighton was a great Covenanter and a signing Protester against the Committee appointed by Parliament anno 1648, for supporting of the then Engagement; And that anno 1654, he accepted a Presentation from the English Commissioners to be Principal of the College of Edinburgh, and when in that Office, he would not confer the Degrees of A. M. on any till they instructed their having sworn both the National and Solemn League and Covenant. As little hath this Author remembered that his own Father subscribed the National Covenant, with the Bond of Maintenancy February 1638, which was the Foundation of the Troubles that followed. I have seen both the above Subscriptions, and know where the Principals lie. I shall say nothing of his differing with Spotswood in several Things; in some of them he appears to be right; But should I proceed to more Instances of the Liberty this Writer has given his Pen, I should swell this much beyond my Design; only this I can't omit, the Liberty he takes with King William's Character, and the Displeasure he took at Queen Mary

Mary for her Behaviour that Night she came to Whitehall, when she was next Day to take on her Father's Crown. Ill did it become him.

3d Reason, I shall give you but two Reasons more which have riveted my Resolution, to mix nothing of my own, lest I should deboard.

I take from the Author of the History of the Rebellion and civil Wars in England, begun in the Year 1641, in an 8vo Volume, Vol. 1st, Page 128, what he inserts there in Relation to the Earl of Argyle and his Son Lord Lorn, afterwards Marquis of Argyle, is remarkable, and 'tis this, The Earl of Argyle having turn'd Roman Catholick, was much prest by the King to make over all to his Son, the old Man declared he would submit to the King, yet with some Bitterness put his Son in mind of his undutiful Carriage towards him, and to carry in his Mind how bountifull the King had been to him; then said to his Majesty, Sir, I must know this young Man better than you can do, you have brought me low, that you may raise him, which I doubt you will live to repent; for he is a Man of Craft, Subtility and Falshood, and can love no Man, and if ever he finds it in his Power to do you Mischief he will be sure to do it. Whether this was a true Saying of the old Earl, or was made up by the Author of the History, from the after Carriage of the Son, I shan't take upon me to say which; only the Rest of the Story in that Page wants to be rectified.

4th Reason,

4th Reason, Is from Mr. Dean Eachard, Vol. 2d, Page 151, anno 1639. We have Arch-bishop Spotswood's Advice to King Charles I. upon his taking Leave of the King, when his Majesty was going to the North. 1st, That his Majesty would suffer none of the Scots Nation to remain in the Army, assuring him they would never fight against their Countrymen, but rather hazard the whole Army by their Tergiversation. 2dly, That he would make a Catalogue of all his Counsellors, Houshold Officers and Domestick Servants, and then with his Pen expunge all the Scots, beginning first with himself, the Archbishop who had given the Council, conceiving that no Man would accuse His Majesty of Partid- lity, when they found the Archbishop of St. Andrews, who so many Years had served his Father and him, expunged among the Rest. 3dly, He must not hope to win upon them by Condescensions, Sweetnesses or Acts of Grace, but should resolve to reduce them to their Duty by such Ways of Power as God had put into his Hands. The Reason of which Counsel was, because he had found by sixty Years sad Ex- perience, that they were generally a People so stub- born, that they were gained by Punishments and lost by Favours.

Should I follow the Example of the above four Authors, and make historical Remarks, with a Mix- ture of my own on the following Sheets, I might make Escapes as others have done before me; so leaves that to the Writer of the History. Only I make this Observe, Clarendon says, Some were so sharp sighted, that the Rebellion he writs of, was contriving from (if not before) the Death of Q. E. Now without being sharp sighted, I may say the Rebellion these Sheets relates to was contriving from (if not before) the Death of Q. A. As an Instance of Folks Thoughts at that Time, I refer you to the seasonable Warning emitted by the Kirk of Scotland, anno 1713 It was printed. The Papers marked thus * in the following Sheets are further Instances of this. But I will keep the Reader no longer from what I promised. What is again published here, and has been printed, is, because they are either out of Mind, or out of Print, if not both.

A Collection of Original LETTERS relating to the REBELLION, 1715.

Account of the Bounty-money bestow'd by Queen Anne on the Chiefs of the Highland Clans.

S I R,

* I Give you this Trouble, in order to satisfy you in that Affair you was desirous to know of me.—I heard there was a Design of settling a Pension upon the Heads of the Highland Clans, as a Thing very much for the Service and Security of Her Majesty's Government; there was likewise a List of them made. I never enquir'd or heard further of that Affair, until the End of November 1711; coming from the North to Edinburgh, I received a Letter by a Footman from Stewart of Appin, telling me, that Her Majesty had been pleas'd;

to cause put me in the List with the other Clans; and that I was desired to be against a certain Day at Innerlochy where all the rest of the Clans were to meet, in order to sign a Letter of Thanks to her Majesty, a Draught of which Letter of Thanks, he said was sent them from Court, together with a Letter to them from my Lord Treasurer Oxford, assuring them of his Friendship and Protection. — I wrote back to Appin, that I would set out in a few Days for London, where I should have an Occasion to see their Letter of Thanks to Her Majesty. — And after I had been about three Weeks at London, my Lord Duplin sent for me to his House, and presented me the said Letter to sign; which accordingly I did. In April 1712 I returned to Scotland; some few Weeks thereafter there came Orders down for each of the Heads of the Clans to receive from Sir P. M. of A — Three hundred and sixty Pounds Sterling, and a Draught of the Receipt, which was in these Terms: “ I A. B. grants me to “ have received Three hundred and Sixty Pounds “ Sterling, as a compleat Year’s Payment of “ the Bounty-money Her Majesty has “ been pleased to bestow upon me.” I have Reason to believe all of them received in May 1712 the like Sum. Soon after I was surpris’d to hear that * Allan Cameron Brother to Lochiel was carrying an Address through the the Highlands to be signed by all the Clans; for hitherto Stewart of Appin had been intrusted with the Management of their Affairs at Court. The said Allan, after having got all his Subscriptions to the Sword in Hand Address, as it was commonly called, he carried it to London, and presented it to Her Majesty, being introduced by my Lord Treasurer, and had ever after the Trust of the Clans Affairs at Court.

*ADDRESS by the Highland Clans to Queen Anne
the End of the Year 1713.*

MADAM,

* WHEN we consider your Majesty's exemplary Piety, and your steady Zeal for the Support of our Holy Church and ancient Monarchy, and look back on the lewd and irreligious Practices of former Governments, we can no more wonder to see your Majesty's Labours crowned with perpetual Success, than to find the Guilt of late Days deservedly branded with constant Ignominy and Disasters.

The Peace Your Majesty has concluded with so much Reputation, by which you have chequed the Avarice of some, who were shamelessly self-interested, and the Arrogancy of others, who, grown wanton under Your Royal Protection, became no less unreasonably ambitious we say,

say, this happy Peace is a shining Instance of the Almighty's Blessing on your Endeavours.

Nor can we enough applaud the Set of Patriots, who, not regarding their Lives and Interests so much as the Glory of their Prince, and the Advantages of their Country, have not only been the faithful Advisers of this great Transaction, but in spite of an impiously bold Opposition have been its wise and daring Administrators.

But above all, our Gratitude ought mainly to be exprest to your Majesty, that you have put a Stop to the vast Effusion of Blood of your beloved People, and that by a natural Tenderness and Compassion transmitted to you from your Majesty's immediate Progenitors.

We must also beg Leave to thank your Majesty for recommending the Insolence of the Press to the Consideration of the late Parliament, hoping the ensuing will improve upon the Progress of the former, and work out a through Reformation, that we be no more scandalized, nor hear the Blessed Son of God blasphemed, nor the sacred Race of Stewart inhumanly traduced with equal Malice and Impunity.

MADAM,

May you still govern by the Zeal and Affection of your People, and long reap the Fruits of that Peace you have so graciously planted among them. Happy! if after your Majesty's late

late Demise, to put a Period to our intestine Divisions, the hereditary Right and Parliamentary Sanction could possibly meet in the Person of a lineal Successor.

Whatever Hardships our Fellow Countrymen may think they have Reason to complain of, we dare not impute them to so much Goodness as shines through all your Majesty's Actions; and we will only peaceably hope to be rescued from them, by the Justice and Generosity of some succeeding Parliament.

To the Earl of Mar.

My Lord,

SO soon as we heard the afflicting News of the Death of Her late Majesty Queen Anne, of Glorious Memory, it did exceedingly comfort us, that after so good and so great a Queen, who had the Hearts, and consulted the true Happiness of all her People, we were to be governed by His sacred Majesty King George, a Prince so brightly adorned with all Royal Vertues, that Britain, under his Royal Administration, shall still be flourishing at Home, and able to hold the Ballance in the Affairs of Europe. Allow us, my Lord, to please ourselves with this agreeable Perswasion,
That

That His Majesty's royal and kindly Influence shall reach to us, who are the most remote, as well as to others of His Subjects in this Island. We are not ignorant, that there are some People forward to misrepresent us, from particular private Views of their own, and who, to reach their own Ends against us, on all Occasions, endeavour to make us in the HIGHLANDS of Scotland pass for disaffected Persons.

Your Lordship has an Estate and Interest in the HIGHLANDS, and is so well known to bear Good-will to your Neighbours, that in order to prevent any ill Impression, which malicious and ill-designing People may at this Juncture labour to give of us, we must beg leave to address your Lordship, and entreat you to assure the Government in our Names, and in that of the rest of the Clans, who, by Distance of the Place, could not be present at the signing of this Letter, of our Loyalty to His sacred Majesty King George. And we do hereby declare to your Lordship, that as we were always ready to follow your Directions in serving Queen Anne, so we will now be equally forward to concur with your Lordship in faithfully serving King George. And we intreat your Lordship would advise us how we may offer our Duty to His Majesty upon his coming over to Britain; and on all Occasions we will beg to receive your Counsel and Direction how we may be most useful to his Royal Government. Edinburgh, 11th November 1714.

Dear Sir,

* THE inclosed Print, in the Paragraph from Edinburgh, containing a false;
scandalous and senseless Reflection upon the Letter wrote by the Chiefs and Chieftains of the Highland Clans to the Earl of Mar, I thought it proper to send it you. The Author or Promoter of it, may be guest from the Thing itself. If your Friends and you judge it worth the while to make Observations on it, showing the Ignorance of the Author in Matters that he pretends to know, and the Falshood of the Facts set down therein, in order to be published. If you'll please to collect the Heads of such Observations, and transmit them hither, they may be put in Form here, and published in the Courant.

As

As all the Island goes cordially on in addressing of His Majesty King George, so the Sons of the Church of England are resolv'd to exert themselves next Elections with Vigor; of this we hear more and more every Post, and there has been some Meetings of Peers here to make the Election of that Body go right. So that albeit the Court has much Influence amongst them, yet we are not without Hopes that they may go right; the Dissolution of the Parliament being delay'd for some Time, till the Court prepare themselves for the Elections. I believe the Earl of Mar will not leave London till about the Beginning of December, before which, I hope, you shall be returned hither; if you be not, I shall let you know of the Time of his Lordship's setting out hitherward.

The Royal Burrows are met here, and are preparing a very whiggish Address to be sent up, but that is but like themselves; the inferior Changes are going on above all for the Whigs, and 'tis talk'd now confidently that the Earl of Sutherland is to be made Colonel of the Scots Horse Grenadeers in Place of the Earl Marishal, that the Earl of Portmore is to get his Commission renewed as Governor of Gibraltar; but that the Lord Polwarth is to get his Regiment of Dragoons, and that Sir Andrew Hume is to be Lord of Session in his Brother's Place; and so the Work goes merrily on. The Duke of

of Atbol arrived here on Monday last from London, and went from this homeward Yesterday. 'Tis talk'd that his Grace has some Ground to expect a Pension of Two thousand Pounds per annum, but he denies it, and says he will be firm to the Interest. I do not hear when the Earl of Findlater comes off; nor how Things go with his Lordship. I was sorry that I happened to be out of Town when Sir John M'Lean left it, and thereby missed of the Honour to kiss his Hands. If you shall have Occasion to see him after you receive these, pray, allow me, to presume to desire you'll please give him my most humble Duty, and likewise Glengary and Appin. I would do the same as to all the rest of our Friends, but that I have not the Honour of their Acquaintance; but, as I have Occasion, I do not fail to drink all your Healths I am in all Sincerity, dear Sir, your most humble faithful Servant.

H. M.

To Glenderule.

* THESE are to give Advertisement to all Merchants, Tradesmen and Inhabitants in this City, that our Lord Provost has positively denied to sign an Address to His sacred Majesty King George, for a speedy Dissolution of the Union, whereby it appears that he is neither a Friend to the ancient Rights of our

B

King.

Kingdom, nor to the good old Town of Edinburgh, notwithstanding the undeserved Honour which the principal Burgesſes of this (now decaying) ancient City has been pleas'd to confer upon him. Therefore I advise you all, as one Body, to order him as your Inferior, to put Pen to Paper, and ſign that Addreſs for the regaining of our ancient unparalell'd Rights; and alſo for recovering the decaying Spirits of all honeſt Scotſmen; and particularly the old Tradeſmen and all the Inhabitants of this City of Edinburgh. If he reſuſe again to ſign it, I am ready to give my Voice among the Tradeſmen in Edinburgh for exacting a Fine of him, which Sum ſhall amount to no more but the Profit of the Scots forty ſhilling Pieces. If he reſuſe a third Time, I am prepar'd with the reſt of my Brethren to ſacrifice our Lord Provost and all the Gainſayers of the ſaid Addreſs. I hope none will challenge the Truth of this, for I can prove it by twenty Witneſſes.

Long live King GEORGE.

WHEREAS there was found affix'd upon ſeveral of the moſt publick Places in the Town of Edinburgh, upon the 25th December

ber 1714 instant, a scurrilous and scandalous Paper, inviting and exciting all Merchants, Tradesmen and Inhabitants of the said City, to concur and assist, not only in forcing the Lord Provost of the said City to sign an Address to His Majesty King George for dissolving of the Union, but also in fining and sacrificing the said Lord Provost and all others who shall refuse to sign the same. Which Paper being not only to the Dishonour of the said Town, but also tending to create Confusions and Disorders amongst His Majesty's good Subjects, and to the Disturbance of the Peace and Tranquillity of the Good Town; Therefore, the Lord Provost and Magistrates thereof, from a just Resentment of such scandalous and disloyal Practices, and for discovering of the Authors thereof, so as they may be brought to account therefore, do promise a Reward of Fifty Pound Sterling to be paid by the Town Treasurer, to any Person or Persons that shall discover and make known to the said Lord Provost and Magistrates, any Person or Persons that are concerned therein, as Authors, Writers or Affixers of the said Paper, or accessory thereto.

Dear Sir,

I Drunk your Health with the Man ye told me was not to come from London, because he was doing his Friends' good Service there; but now, by a particular Order from his principal Friend, is come to Scotland; and I was appointed to meet with you to tell you how your Friends are, but having several Friends to see, it will not be convenient for me to come your length, therefore must intreat you to meet me at—upon Friday next, where I must be, by Direction, to speak to my Lord of our Friend's Business, which, I hope, will make you glad, as I am, when you hear how our Relation's Affairs goes. I hope to see you, therefore shall conclude with the Offer of my most humble Service to yourself and my Ladies, and I am, in great Sincerity, Sir, your most faithful humble Servant, Tho. Erskine.

I go for Aberdeen this Moment, and shall bring you the News of the Place, if I be not griped as Carrwath, and my Lord Wigtoun is.

To the Right Honourable Major-General Gordon of Achintoule.

*By John Earl of Mar, Commander in Chief of
His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.*

THESE are ordering and empowering you, That when you have joyn'd in Argyleshire, conform to the Orders you had from me me of the first of this Instant September, to march to the House and Town of Inverary, and to summon these now in Possession of them, in the King's Name, to surrender them to you; and, in case of a Refusal, to take Possession of them by Force of Arms, and thereafter you are to put a Garrison into the said House to keep it for his Majesty's Use, and to leave the Town in the Hands of these that are well affected to his Majesty. For the doing of which, this shall be to you a sufficient Warrant. Given at Braemar the 9th Day of September 1715.

Invercald, April 9th at Night 1715.

Fockie,

YE was in the Right not to come with the Hundred Men ye sent up To-night, when I expected four Times the Number. It is a pretty Thing, when all the Highlands of Scotland are now rising upon their King and Country's Account, as I have Accounts from them since they were with me, and the Gentlemen in most of our neighbouring Lowlands expecting us down to join them, that my Men should be only refractory : Is not this the Thing we are now about, which they have been

B 3

wishing these six and twenty Years? And now when it is come, and the King and Country's Cause at Stake, will they for ever sit still, and see all perish?

I have used gentle Means too long, and so I'll be forced to put other Orders I have in Execution. I have sent you, inclosed an Order for the Lordship of Kildrummie, which you are immediately to intimate to all my Vassals. If they give ready Obedience, it will make some Amends; and if not, ye may tell them from me, that it will not be in my Power to save them (were I willing) from being treated as enemies by these who are ready soon to join me; and they may depend on it, that I will be the first to propose and order their being so. Particularly, let my own Tenants in Kildrummie know, that if they come not forth with their best Arms, that I will send a Party immediately to burn what they shall miss taking from them; and they may believe this not only a Threat, but by all that's sacred I'll put it in Execution, let my Loss be what it will, that it may be Example to others. You are to tell the Gentlemen, that I'll expect them in their best Accoutrements on Horseback, and no Excuse to be accepted of. Go about this with all Diligence, and come your self, and let me know your having done so: All this is not only as ye will be answerable to me, but to your

King and Country. Your assured Friend and Servant,

M A R.

To John Forbes of Inverarraw Baillie in Kildrummie.

OUR Rightful and Natural King James VIII. by the Grace of GOD, (who is now coming to relieve us from our Oppressions) having been pleased to intrust us with the Direction of his Affairs, and the Command of his Forces in this his ancient Kingdom of Scotland, and some of his faithful Subjects and Servants met at Aboyno, viz. The Lord Huntly, the Lord Tilliebairdine, the Earl Marisball, the Earl of Southesk, Glengary from the Clans, Glenderule from the Earl of Broadalbine, and Gentlemen of Argyle Shire, Mr. Patrick Lyon of Auchterhouse, the Laird of Auldbar, Lieutenant General George Hamilton, Major General Gordon, and myself having taken into our Consideration His Majesty's last and late Orders to us, FIND, That as this is now the Time that he ordered us to appear openly in Arms for him; so it seems to us absolutely necessary for His Majesty's Service, and the relieving of our native Country from all its Hardships, that all His faithful and loving Subjects, and Lovers of their Country, should, with all possible Speed, put themselves into Arms.

These are therefore, in His Majesty's Name and Authority, and by Vertue of the Power aforesaid, and by the King's special Order to me thereanent, to require and impower you forthwith to raise your fencible Men with their best Arms; and you are immediately to march them to join me and some other of the King's Forces at the Inver of Braemar on Monday next, in order to proceed in our March to attend the King's Standard, with his other Forces.

The King intending, that his Forces shall be paid from the Time of their setting out, He expects, as he positively orders, that they behave themselves civilly, and commit no Plundering, nor other Disorders, upon the highest Penalties, and his Displeasure, which is expected you'll see observed.

Now is the Time for all good Men to show their Zeal for His Majesty's Service, whose Cause is so deeply concerned, and the Relief of our native Country from Oppression, and a foreign Yoke too heavy for us and our Posterity to bear; and to endeavour the Restoring, not only of our Rightful and Native King, but also our Country, to its ancient, free and independent Constitution under him, whose Ancestors have reigned over us for so many Generations.

In so honourable, good and just a Cause, we cannot doubt of the Assistance, Direction and Blessing of Almighty God, who has so often re-

rescued the Royal Family of Stewart, and our Country, from sinking under Oppression.

Your punctual Observance of these Orders is expected. For the doing of all which, this shall be to you, and all you employ in the Execution of them, a sufficient Warrant. Given a Braemar the 9th of September 1715.

One thousand seven hundred and fifteen Years.

THE which Day, in Presence of Sir George Warrender of Lochend Bart. Lord Provost of the City of Edinburgh, and John Duncan Esq; one of the present Magistrates thereof, appeared personally Ebenezer Whittel, late Servant to John Earl of Mar; and being solemnly sworn and examin'd by the Lord Provost on his great Oath, deposeth, That about the eight Day of August last, or thereabout, the said John Earl of Mar, and Major General George Hamilton came from London, and the Deponent waited on the Earl as his Valley, and one Footman also waited on his Lordship, and the General had but one Servant waiting on him. Depones,
They

They came on board of a Ship belonging to John Spence Skipper at Leith, at Graves-end, and were about eight Days at Sea, and landed at the Elie in Fife, and went immediately after their landing to an House belonging to Mr. James Beshune of Balfour, where they stayed all Night, and from thence they took Horse and went to the Lord Kinnoul's House, next Day they proceeded to Craigiehall, and Colonel Hay conveyed the Earl about three Miles, and went to the Lord Nairn's, and the Earl and General Hamilton proceeded to the Laird of Invercald's at the Brae of Mar. Declares, While the Deponent waited on the Earl of Mar, he saw Colonel Hay, Lord John Drummond, the Earl of Tillibairden, Strowan Robertson, and several other Highland, Gentlemen whom the Deponent knew not, came and waited on the Earl of Mar, and that the Lairds of Glenbucket, Glenderule, Abergeldy, Dalmore, Auchindrain, and one Mr. John Paterson, who had been a Clerk in the Secretary Office, also came and waited on the Earl. And depones, That after the Earl of Mar's Stay at Invercald's House about eight Days, he went to Glenbucket's, and from thence to Aboyne, where a Consultation was had, where were with him the Marquis of Huntly and Tillibairden, Earls Southesk and Marischal, Lairds of Glenderule, Glengairry, Glenbucket, Tutor of Aboyne, Major General Hamilton, and General Gordon. Depones, Invercald and Abergeldy were at Aboyne, but were not not admitted to the Consultation, Depones, The Earl of Mar, Marquis of Tillibairden, Major General Hamilton and Mr. Paterfon return'd to Invercald, where they stay'd about eight Days, during which Time, the Earl sent off several Letters, and received others, and in that Time there were gathered together about 500 of the Earl of Mar's own Men, 300 whereof, being well armed, went to Castletoun alongft with the Earl of Mar, Lieutenant General Hamilton and Innerey, who came to Invercald the Day before; and that the remaining 200 went away till they should be provided with better Arms, and then were to follow, and be led by Innerey. Depones, That at Castletoun they proclaimed the Pretender, and set up a Standard with an 7. R. 3 and 8 Figures. Depones, That when the Standard was set up, they consecrate the same with Prayers. Depones, That the same Day they proceeded to Spittle of Glenshie, where they stay'd one Night, and the Day following they advanced to Kirkmichael, at which Place they were joined by about 300 Horse, drawn up in two Bodies, the one under the Command of the Lord Drummond, and the other commanded by the Earl of Linlithgow. Depones, That the next Day they were joined by 500 of the Duke of Atbole's Men, all Foot, commanded by the Marquis of Tillibairden, and the next Day, which, the Deponent thinks was the 16th or 17th September Instant, the whole Body

Body marched forward to a Place in Atbole near Logierate, at which Place the Deponent left them on the 20th Instant, and came from thence to Pertb, which he found in Possession of the Rebels, and saw there four Piece of Cannon and four Pateraroes, and from thence he came to Edinburgh. Depones, That betwixt the Time of their first encamping at the Place near Logierate, and the Deponent's off coming, several Bodies of Horse and Foot joined the Rebels Army, and that when he came away he heard them computed 1500 Foot, and 1000 Horse, and that they hourly expected Glengairy with 2000 Men, and heard that the Marquis of Huntly was to join them with 15000. Depones, That when the Deponent was coming away from the Earl of Mar, he saw the Earl of Braoadalbine come out of a Boat with some other Gentlemen along with him whom the Deponent knew not. Depones, That Mr. John Paterfon was the Person that proclaimed the Pretender King James VIII. And the Persons of Note that were present at upsetting the Standard and Proclamation were, the Earl of Mar, General Hamilton, Dalmore and his Son. Depones, The Standard was carried along during the March by a Gentleman whom the Deponent knew not. Depones, That these Gentlemen that joined the Rebels were mounted on very good Horses, as was also their Servants, and that they had several led Horses, and all of them them had Carrabines, Pistols and broad Swords. And this and what is writ on the other Pages is Truth.

WE Mr. John Murray Doctor of Medicine at Perth, and Mr. Alexander Comrie Minister at Kenmore, do upon Soul and Conscience testify and declare, That John Earl of Broadalbine, an old infirm Man of Fourscore Years of Age, is much troubled with Coughs, Rheums, Desfluxions and other Maladies and Infirmities which usually attend old Age; that he is much subject to the Gravel and Stitches, and that at this present, and for sometime by-gone, he complains of Pains in his Back and Kidneys; and the Stitches in his Sides have been so violent, That notwithstanding of his great Age, there was a Necessity for bleeding him, which has not yet removed them, and he is so ill that he cannot travel from this to Edinburgh, without apparent Danger of his Health and Life. Witness our Subscription at Taymouth * the nineteenth Day of September One thousand seven hundred and fifteen Years. J. Murray M. D. A. Comrie Minister.

We

* N. B. The Date of this Certificate is the Day before Earl Broadalbine landed at Logierate, as in the above Declaration.

WE Subscribers, Heritors within the Easter Division of Rofs, hereby give full Power, Warrant and Commission to Mr. Aeneas McLeod of Cadbol, David Rofs of Wester Kindair, and Alexander Rofs of Easter Kindair, to treat with Mr. Alexander McKenzie of Dachmaluack, or any other impowered by the noble Earl of Seaforth, and to assure him, That we, our Men, Tenants and Followers shall abstain and refrain from all Acts of Hostility against the said noble Earl, his Friends, Tenants and Followers, and Lands belonging to them, providing always the said noble Earl, Mr. Alexander McKenzie of Dachmaluack and others of his Kinsmen undertake for themselves, Tenants and Servants, not to commit any Act of Hostility against us; and this in Regard of the Message sent to us by the said Mr. Alexander McKenzie, by these subscribed, at Tayne the Twenty seventh Day of September One thousand seven hundred and fifteen Years. Sic sub. Malcom Rofs of Fiscalny, John Rofs of Achnacloch, David Rofs of Inverchastay, Alexander Forrester of Cullinald, Donald McLeod of Gymies, William Rofs of Easter-Fearn, David McCulloch of Glastulloch, David Rofs of Kindace.

Maich

Much Honoured,

I Doubt not but you are acquainted that I am commanded by the Earl of Mar to be with the Body of Highlanders that are to join the King's Friends in Argyle Shire; I therefore intreat you'll please let me know by the Bearer how soon I shall have the Honour of seeing you here. Glengairy has been at this Place with his Men seven or eight Days, and Appin is to come in with his To-morrow; I therefore earnestly beg you will make all haste imaginable, the King's Business requiring Dispatch. I am with all Respect much honoured, your most humble Servant.

Brae of Glenorchie, October the 2d 1715.

ALEXR. GORDON.

To the Much Honoured the Laird of Clanranald

Honourable Sir,

I Had the Honour of your Line, and tho' I am most anxious to join you, I cannot as yet be positive how soon I can do it, the Coun.

Country People being terrified by the Garrison of Fort-William, who threatens to destroy all the Country how soon ever we leave it. However, I am resolved to endeavour to get a Party of them to march with me, tho' the Rest should stay from me at this Occasion; but how soon this can be done, I cannot as yet determine, only it shall be how soon I can. In the mean Time, I am honourable Sir, your most humble and obedient Servant.

Keappoch, the 3d October 1715.

COLL. M'DONALD.

To the Honourable
General Gordon.

MANIFESTO and DECLARATION by the Noblemen; Gentlemen and others, who dutifully appear at this Time in asserting the undoubted Right of their lawful Sovereign James the VIII. by the Grace of GOD, King of Scotland, England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. and for relieving this His ancient Kingdom of Scotland from the Oppression and Grievances it lies under.

HIS Majesty's Right of Blood to the Crown of these Realms is undoubted, and and has never been disputed nor attained by the least Circumstance of Authority whatsoever.

By the Laws of GOD, by the ancient Constitution of these Nations, and by the positive unrepeal'd Law of the Land, we are bound to pay His Majesty the Duty of faithful Subjects.

Nothing can absolve us from this our Duty of Subjection and Obedience; The Laws of GOD require our Allegiance to our rightful King; the Laws of the Land secure our Religion and other Interests; and His Majesty giving up himself to the Support of His Protestant Subjects, puts the Means of securing to us our Concerns Religious and Civil, into our own Hands;

Our fundamental Constitution has been entirely altered and sunk amidst the various Shocks of unstable Faction, which in searching out new Experiments pretended for our Security, has produced nothing but daily Disappointments, and has brought us and our Posterity under a precarious Dependence upon foreign Councils and Interests, and the Power of foreign Troops.

The late unhappy Union, which was brought about by the mistaken Notions of some, and by the ruinous and selfish Designs of others, has proved so far from lessening and healing the Differences betwixt His Majesty's Subjects of Scotland and England, that it has widen'd and increas'd them, and appears by Experience so inconsistent with the Rights, Interests and Privileges of us and our good Neighbours and Fellow-subjects of England, that the Continuance of it must inevitably ruin us and hurt them; nor can any Way be found to relieve us, and restore our ancient independent Constitutions, but by restoring our rightful and natural King, who has the only undoubted Right to reign over us: Neither can we hope that that Party who chiefly contributed to bring us into Bondage, will at any Time endeavour to work our Relief, since it is known how strenuously they opposed in two late Instances, the Efforts that were made by all Scotsmen but themselves, and supported by the best and wisest of the English, towards so desirable an End, as they will not adventure openly to disown a Dissolution of the Union to be.

Our Substance has been wasted in the late ruinous Wars, and we see an unavoidable Prospect of having Wars continued on us and our Posterity, so long as the Possession of the Crown is not in the right Line.

The hereditary Rights of the Subjects, tho' confirm'd by Conventions and Parliaments, are now treated as of no Value nor Force, and past Services to the Crown and Royal Family, are now look'd upon as Grounds of Suspicion.

A pack'd Assembly, who call themselves a British Parliament, have so far as in them lies, inhumanly murdered their own and our Sovereign, by promising a great Sum of Money as the Reward of so execrable a Crime. They have proscribed by unaccountable and groundless Impeachments and Attainders; the worthiest Patriots of England; for their honourable and successful Endeavours to restore Trade, Plenty and Peace to these Nations. They have broke in upon the sacred Laws of both Countries, by which the Liberties of our Persons were secured. They have impow'ed a foreign Prince (who notwithstanding his Expectations of the Crown for fifteen Years, is still unacquainted with our Manners, Customs and Language) to make an absolute Conquest, if not timely prevented, of the three Kingdoms, by invest- ing him with an unlimited Power, not only of raising unnecessary Forces at Home, but also of calling in foreign Troops, ready to promote his uncontrollable Designs; nor can we be very hopeful of its being otherwise, in the Way it is in at present, for some Generations to come, and the Consequence of these unexampled Proceedings has been already so fatal to great Numbers of our Kinsmen, Friends and Fellow-subjects of both Kingdoms, that they have been constrain'd to abandon their Country, Houses, Wives and Children, or to give themselves up Prisoners, and perhaps Victims to be sacrific'd at the Pleasure of Foreigners, and a few hot headed Men of a restless Faction whom they employ. Our Troops abroad, notwithstanding their long and remarkable good Services, have been treated since the Peace with Neglect and Contempt; as particularly in Holland, and it is not now the Officers long Service, Merit and Blood they have lost, but Money and Favour, by which they can obtain Justice in their Preferments.

So that it is evident, that the Safety of His Majesty's Person, and loyal Subjects, the Rights of His People, and Independency of His Kingdoms call loudly for immediate Relief and Defence.

The Consideration of these unhappy Circumstances, with the due Regard we have to common Justice, the Peace and Quiet of us and our Posterity, our Duty to His Majesty and His Commands, are the powerful Motives which have engaged us in our present Undertaking, which we are firmly and heartily resolved to push to the utmost, and stand by one another to the last Extremity, as the only solid and effectual Means of putting an End to so dreadful a Prospect, as by our present Situation we have before our Eyes, and with faithful Hearts, true to our only Rightful King, our Country, and our Neighbours; We earnestly beseech and expect (as His Majesty commands) the Assistance of all our true Fellow-subjects to second these our just Attempts, declaring hereby our sincere Intentions.

That

That we will promote and concur in all lawful Means for settling a lasting Peace to these Lands, under the auspicious Government of our Native born Rightful Sovereign, the Direction of our own Domestick Councils, and the Protection of our own native Force and Troops.

That we will in the same manner concur and endeavour to have our Laws, Liberties and Properties secured by free Parliaments of both Kingdoms.

That by the Wisdom of such Parliaments, We will endeavour to have such Laws enacted, as shall give an absolute Security to us and future Ages for the true Protestant Religion against all Efforts of arbitrary Power, Popery and all its other Enemies. Nor have we any Reason to be distrustful of the Goodness of GOD, the Solidity of our Holy Religion, or the known Excellency of His Majesty's Judgment, as not to hope, that due Time, good Example and Conversation with our Learn'd Divines, will remove these Prejudices which we know that his Education in a Popish Country has not riveted in His Royal discerning Mind; and we are sure, that as Justice is a Vertue of all Religious Professions, the doing of it to Him, will not lessen His good Opinion of ours.

That as the King is willing to give His Royal Indemnity for all that is past, so We will cheerfully concur in passing general Acts of Oblivion, that our Fellow-subjects who have been miss'd, may have a fair Opportunity of living with us, in the same friendly manner we design to live with them.
 C 3 miss'd,

That we will use our Endeavours for redressing the bad usage of our Troops abroad, and bringing the Troops at home to be on the same Foot and Establishment of Pay, as those in England.

The Peace of these Nations being thus settled, and we thus freed from foreign Dangers, We will use our Endeavours to have the Army reduced to the usual Number of Guards and Garrisons, and will concur in such Laws and Methods as shall relieve Us of the heavy Taxes and Debts now lying upon us, and at the same Time will support the publick Credit in all its Parts.

And we hereby faithfully promise and engage, that every Officer who joins with Us in our King and Country's Cause, shall not only enjoy the same Post he now does, but shall be advanced and preferr'd according to his Rank and Station, and the Number of Men he brings off with him to Us; and each Foot Soldier so joining us, shall have Twenty Shillings Sterling Gratuity, besides his Pay; and each Trooper or Dragoon, who brings his Horse and Accutments along with him, the Sum of Twelve Pounds Sterling.

And in general, we will concur with all our Fellow-subjects in such Measures as shall make us us flourish at Home, and be formidable abroad, under our Rightful Sovereign, and the peaceable Harmony of our ancient fundamental Constitutions, undisturb'd by Pretenders Interests, Councils from abroad, or by restless Factions at Home.

In so honourable, good and just a Cause, We doubt not of the Assistance, Direction and Blessing of Almighty GOD, Who has so often rescued the Royal Family of Stewart and our Country, from sinking under Oppression.

To all true-hearted Scotsmen, whether Soldiers or others.

WHEN our brave and ancient Nation is like to be engaged in War, I think it is every Man's Business to consider, That whatever may be said in Defence of Soldiers of Fortune fighting in foreign Countries (when perhaps it is neither so easy, nor so much the Duty of Strangers to consider the Quarrel) yet no Man can, with any Shew of Reason, plead the Lawfulness of making War a Trade, when it comes to be Civil or Domestic. In this Case, 'tis only the Lawfulness of the Cause, and the Good of his Country that can warrant any Man to engage in it: For if he embark on the wrong Side, from a Principle of Interest, or any sel-

5th Consideration; every Slaughter he makes of the contrary Party is a fresh Murder; and if he falls himself he goes to the Devil for Hire.

By the Earl of Mar's Manifesto we find, That the present Quarrel turns upon these Two Points, The restoring our Lawful natural King, and the dissolving the Union: Both which should be seriously weigh'd by all Scotsmen, being of the utmost Importance, both on the Score of Conscience, Honour, and Interest.

As to the Restoring to His Throne King James VIII. whatever some Men's Interest may prompt them to say or do; yet I'm confident, that in our secret Thought we are agreed, That He is our Lawful Rightful Sovereign; And we all know, that He is the Undoubted Lineal Heir by Blood, and Descendant of the ancient Race of our Scottish Kings; whose Ancestors, in a direct Line, have sway'd the Sceptre in our hereditary Monarchy for many Generations, without Contest; a Prince upon whom the Crown is entail'd by the fundamental Laws of our Country, and to whom, even before He was born, we have often sworn Allegiance and Fealty by those Oaths given to former Kings, by which we bound our selves not only to them, but to their Lawful Heirs and Successors.

In Bar to all this, on Pretence of some illegal Actings by the late King James, (in a giddy and tumultuary Time) a Meeting, nameless in Law, and unknown in Practice, assembled without any

any legal Call, neither Electors nor Members being duly qualified, and where forfeited Traitors got Leave to sit and vote: I say, This Meeting (which they called A Convention of Estates) took upon them to forfeit their Sovereign; and by an Act, as contrary to Law as to Reason and Christianity, declared the Throne vacant, and then settled the Crown on the Prince of Orange: By which, and the subsequent Train of illegal Acts, the present Possessor fills the Throne; whose Right must stand or fall with the Validity or Nullity of that Meeting.

We all know, that in our neighbouring Nation, in King Charles II's Reign, when the Bill of Exclusion was debated, many learned Prelates, and great Lawiers warmly asserted, That the Lineal Succession was so blended with the Constitution, that it was above the Power both of King and Parliament to alter it. And surely it has at least as strong and unalterable a Foundation here, being so riveted to our Policy, established by our Law, confirmed by solemn Oaths, and strengthened by a Prescription of 2000 Years.

But whether a King and Parliament had Power to alter the Succession, or not, never any Man, before 88, except the Rump Parliament, pretended, that a Meeting without a King, or without any Authority from Him, had Power to make void the Throne; which was, in Effect, to unhinge the Monarchy, and raze the Constitution action from the very Foundation. They who contriv'd the Scheme, both here and in England, were so sensible of the Weakness of their Arguments to satisfy the Minds of the People, that they were forc'd to bring in a supplemental Topic, the Illegitimacy of the Prince of Wales's Birth: So impudent a Piece of Slander, that, however serviceable it was to their Interest to make it appear, and however frequently challenged to do so, they never durst bring it to a fair Trial.

Things being thus, (as I don't doubt but you are very sensible they are) Pray, Gentlemen, consider whether you are safe, either in Conscience or Honour, to draw your Swords for so precarious and ill founded an Establishment. I should be unwilling to think, that in the present Case, Soldiers should consider the Justice of the Cause less than other Men, because they are more concerned than others, being the chief Actors in any Blood and Slaughter that may ensue: And he that sheds the Blood of his Fellow-subjects and Countrymen, probably his Brethren, and nearest Relations, in a Cause that he cannot show to be just, will give the World but a slender Opinion either of his Religion or good Sense. As you would then approve yourselves to God, the World, and yourselves to be Christians, Men of Honour, and Scotsmen, consider seriously before you draw your Swords, whom whom you are to fight against, and what you fight for.

You are to fight against your Lawful and Rightful King, born in our own Island, of the Ancient Stock of the Royal Family of the STUARTS, against whom there is not so much as a Ground of Quarrel alledged, but that He was born a Prince, and has a Right to govern us: For whatever might have been objected to His Father, since He Himself has done no Wrong, 'tis against all the receiv'd Notions of Justice and Honour, to punish the Innocent for the Sake of the Guilty.

You are to fight against this Prince, who only wants to be seen, and known to be admir'd: For if we will give Credit to those who have had the Honour to converse with Him, His Endowments both of Mind and Body make Him as fit to govern Kingdoms, as His Birth and Extraction: And I can't forbear thinking, That the princely Qualities, which at a very early Age appeared in Him, is the best Reason that can be assign'd, why the most politick Prince in Europe never effectually attempted to set Him on His Throne, when it is demonstrable to all the World, the best Game he could have plaid, to put an End to a long and expensive War, was in good Earnest, to have landed Him in His own Dominions; had he not been afraid that He was too hard Mettal, to be made a Tool to serve His Interest, against the Honour and Safe-

of His own Kingdoms: For however the French King might have procured a present Peace by restoring our King; yet he was too penetrating a Politician not to foresee, that a King of Britain, of Judgment and Application might some time or other be a Bar in his Way, to hinder some of his unwarrantable Designs.

I need not take Notice of the Ingratitude of your Quarrel in drawing your Swords against a Prince, whose Ancestors so bravely defended us, and transmitted down to us the Liberty, Freedom and Independency of our Nation, and under whom our Nobility and Gentry at first received, and ever since possessed all the Honours, Titles, Riches and Estates which have made their Families so considerable both at Home and Abroad; I say I need not mention the Ingratitude of your being engaged in this Quarrel; for if you get over Rebellion and Parricide, and think yourselves safe in levelling your Pieces or sheathing your Swords in your lawful Prince, by which the whole Stock of the most Illustrious Family in the World is cut off at once; (which God forbid) it were in vain to think to prevail with you by any Arguments drawn from the Dead.

Nor is it an Excuse for your appearing in Arms against the King's Forces, that His Majesty is not in Person among them; for were it in your Power (which, God be praised, it is not) to disable the King's Army, so that upon his

his landing in any Part of his Dominions; he should become a Prey to those that seek his Life; you are thereby accessory to his Murder, and to all the Ruin and Desolation which would be the fatal Consequence of so horrid an Act: And remember, that as long as you remain in the Rebels Army, you do what you can to promote those wicked Ends; and if God's good Providence frustrate your ill Purposes, your King and Country owe you no Thanks.

I know your present Managers make you believe, that were the King once out of their Way, there would be an End of all our Troubles and Commotions; and for that Reason, have run into the most unheard of barbarous Villany, in setting a Price upon his Head: But he is blind that does not see, that that Misfortune, should it happen, (which God Almighty prevent) would be to us and our Posterity the beginning of Sorrow: For it is very plain to an ordinary Understanding, that if the King's bare Title to the Crown, when he could not make any Efforts to recover his Right, has occasioned, for so many Years together, such Fears and Jealousies, such Imposts and Taxes, such bloody Wars and Commotions at Home and Abroad; were he out of the Way, and the lawful Succession by our Law, devolv'd to another Family, who have Forces of their own to support their Claim, what Destruction have you

you brought upon your Country ? Should for Instance the French King (which is no remote Prospect) come by Proximity of Blood, to be nearest Heir to the Crown of Britain, with whom the great Number of true Loyalists in these Nations would undoubtedly join, what a fine Pass would Things be brought to ?

For my own Part, I do in my Conscience think, that as all the Misery which this Nation has felt in the Memory of any Body now alive, has flow'd from the unnatural and base Treatment of the Royal Family ; so all the Happiness, Peace and Security which we can wish and hope for, depends entirely, under God, upon the Life and Issue of King James. And therefore, he that now fights to hinder his peaceable Restoration, is a Traitor to his King, an Enemy to his Country, and a stupid Fool to himself and his Posterity.

And now, What is it for that you thus engage against your King, your Country, your Friends and Relations ? a most glorious Cause no doubt ! viz. to support a German Prince in the unjust Possession of the Throne ; A Prince who is the very remotest Relation the King has ; One who understands not one Word of our Language, and (which is worse) knows not one Title of our Constitution ; who uses our best Nobility with Neglect and ill Manners, and cares for nothing in the King's Dominions, but the Wealth and Riches of 'em ;
who

who sits a Cypher in the Throne, and suffers a Set of People to harras the Nations, that by their Behaviour no Body would take to be Natives of 'em.

You fight to maintain this Prince and his hopeful Family, the very Scorn and Contempt of the English Nation, however they are cried up by those who make Tools of them to enrich and aggrandize themselves upon the Ruin of their Country.

You fight to keep up all the heavy Impositions under which your Country groans, to perpetuate a War, which the present Managers have given you fair Warning to expect, by their matchless and unaccountable Fury against the Peace and the Promoters of it.

Our whole Nation either is, or pretends to be sensible of the Mischief of the Union; we feel the Weight of it to our Cost; and the Inconveniencies will daily increase, as is obvious to any that will look before him: The King's Forces have sufficiently demonstrated their Dislike to it, by their ready appearing to join with the only Expedient to dissolve it: And you pretend to be Scotsmen, and fight for making your Misery yet more inevitable, and suffer your selves to be amused with Stories of breaking the Union another Way, by People who are so far from repenting their having a Hand in making it, that they would yet bring you under worse Circum-

Circumstances, (if possible) for fordid little Interest of their own.

I might enlarge upon the Badness of your Cause, and from Religion, Justice, Nature, Honour, Gratitude, Interest and Safety, shew you that no Age ever produc'd a Juncture so capable of engaging Men of Sense and Honour, to espouse our Side, as the present Time calls loudly on you to come over to us ; But I hope from the Hints I have given, you will reason yourselves into your Loyalty, and shew that you are indeed Scotsmen, by joining with an Army that has nothing at Heart, but restoring their and your King to his own undoubted Right, and redeeming your Country from Ruin and Destruction.

But I am sufficiently aware that you are taught to say, That you disclaim the King for his Principles, both in Religion and Politicks, and were he a Protestant, and had been bred with any tolerable Notions of the British Constitution, you would think his Government supportable, and would not oppose his Restoration.

Pray, Gentlemen, tell me where did you learn that Difference in Religion absolved the Subjects from their Allegiance to their lawful King ? Did our Saviour or his Apostles think themselves excused from Obedience to the Roman Emperors, because they were Heathens ? Or does the Confession of Faith, in the 23d Article, teach any such Doctrine ? Is there any Law

Law of our Country that makes good this Plea; I say, any Law, made by a lawful King and Parliament? Think better of it before you run such desperate Courses upon so sandy a Foundation.

Besides, Pray what Assurance have you of the King's being a Papist? Is it because he was educated in a Popish Country; He was so; more Shame for those who were the Occasion of it; and whatever Mischief may be apprehended from that Education, it is owing to the Banishers of the Royal Family in the great Rebellions of 41 and 88. But did you never hear of a Man of Sense get over the Prejudice of Education? Indeed I cannot but say if all Protestants follow your Example; in going contrary to all the received Maxims of Religion and Honesty, by keeping your King from what is his Due by a more undoubted Right; than any Man in Scotland holds his Estate, it were bad Encouragement for His Majesty to embrace a Religion so plainly contrary to the Principles of the Gospel; But as His Majesty well knows that the Injustice done him under a Pretence of the Protestant Religion is not authorised by it, and has had Ground enough to be assured that it is disclaimed by the very best Protestants in Britain; so I must still think that the Force of Truth, which is certainly on our Side, will convince him of the Mistakes he may have formerly been subject to, and his happy Restoration give him an Opportunity to declare with Safety, That he truly is of the One Catholick Church, without the Addition of Roman.

But supposing the utmost the Objection can be stretch'd to; pray tell me whether your Elector of Branswick is not of a Religion very near akin to Popery in some Things; and whether there be any considerable Difference between the two in the most absurd Point of all Popery, viz. Transubstantiation, only that the Lutheran Notion of it is the more unintelligible of the two, making the same Thing to be two different Things at the same Time, which even a Miracle can't effect, &c.

If then you are to chuse or reject Kings for not thinking in religious Matters as you do, why your present Darling, and not One who is in every Respect of your Opinion?

If he was put in the Succession, as was alledged, because he was the next Protestant Heir; that shews, that you own the Kingdom Hereditary by the Constitution; and unless the Laws of the Nation authorised your laying him aside before 88, which I challenge all your Lawyers to make appear, you must allow that you forced him to France without Reason, and then made a pretended Law to disinherit him for being bred there. An Unjustice only paralleled by the blasphemous Notion of God Almighty's irresistably forcing wicked wicked Men to Ill, and then damning them for being wicked.

But let the King's Religion be what it will, He has under his Hand given us all the Security we can ask, That he will maintain the Protestant Religion in his Kingdoms, and fence it from any Danger by such Laws, as shall, by the Advice of his Parliament, be thought necessary. And we have this Demonstration of his being in Earnest in his Promise, That no Man of his Judgment and Wisdom would venture the Loss of his Dominions a second Time for attempting what he plainly sees to be impracticable in Britain; And if I had no other Reason to think the Protestant Religion secure by the King's Restoration, I can't but judge this Consideration of great Weight, viz. That the the Pope and Popish Princes combin'd to destroy his Royal Father and himself, and his Protestant Subjects are the chief Asserters of his Right, and Promoters of his Restoration. Let no Body then amuse you with imaginary Fears of Popery, for by your glorious Revolution, the Protestant, nay the Christian Religion suffered more in Britain by Atheism, Deism, and Contempt of God's true Worship, than I trust in God it shall ever do by the Administration of our Lawful Sovereign.

But you are further made to believe, That the King would certainly make you all Slaves; because, being educated in France, he has been used to the Maxims of Arbitrary Government, and those are so natural to be liked by young Monarchs, that he will certainly transcribe the French Tyranny into the British Constitution; That is to say, I met a Man upon the Rode, and I fancy he designs to rob me, tho' I can give no Reason for my Apprehension, but that once upon a Time, there was a Robber took a Man's Purse in that Place, and so without being assaulted, nay, when the Man declar'd he had no ill Design upon me, I take a Pistol and shoot him.

Does it always follow, That Men must love the Government of the Country where they were bred? I wish it had been so before the Revolution; for had all the People of this Island lov'd Hereditary Monarchy, because it was the receiv'd Constitution here, we had not been troubled with so many Miseries as have since ensued: But should our King be fond of Arbitrary Power (which by the By he has utterly disclaim'd) yet the Rubs and Difficulties in his Way from our Constitution, Custom, Laws, and our own Inclinations are such, that he can have no possible Hopes to surmount them; therefore we need not be under the least Apprehension of his attempting it.

But this is an Objection contriv'd only to amuse and bubble the People; for had you been so much afraid of Arbitrary Power, as you pretend, would you have chose to set a Prince

Prince upon the Throne, who, besides his being educated in Arbitrary Principles, has likewise been long in the Practice of unlimited Power: And to make it so much the more uneasy, instead of the Frankness and Generosity of the French Temper, has a German Bitterness, and a Sullen and Morose Nature, which makes it the more dangerous: And I think in the short While's Experience we have had of this Prince's Reign, we have partly felt it; for ever since his coming to the Throne, he has not passed one publick Act of Grace, nay not of good Nature and Lenity: All Things are exaggerated to the highest Degree, and punished to the utmost Severity; which fairly warns us what we are to expect hereafter; for if the Beginning be so, what shall the End be?

Now Gentlemen and Soldiers, I shall not insist upon other Topicks to press you to your Duty to your King and Country. I shall only say, That whoever will allow himself calmly, and without Prejudice to consider what is already said, cannot but evidently find, That (so far as any human Understanding can possibly reach) our Affairs at present are in such a Situation, That we must either have our King, or War for ever; We must now help our sinking Country, or be ruined to all Intents and Purposes; and if by your present Management, we should fail of our Attempt, our Chains will be heavier for endeavouring an Escape; and whatever Services you do for that Party that would enslave us, (by which you propose such private Advantages) you will only transmit your Names to Posterity with this glorious Title, These are they who sold their KING and Country to German Slavery.

From the Camp at Perth, 3d October 1715.

SIR,

AFTER acquainting you that there is a very powerful and numerous Confluence of Noblemen and Gentlemen and Soldiers, all cheerfully resolved to venture their Lives and Fortunes in the Service of our King and Country, I think I need not use many Arguments to persuade you that a great many of these are but indifferently provided in Money to defray their necessary Charges:

Several have very cheerfully lent their Money towards the supporting so good a Cause, and 'tis expected you will follow their good Example; all the Security they demand is my Bond for it, either in my own Name, or in Name of the Publick, or both, and you may choice

choice which you will. The Sum which is expected of you is L. 200 Sterling, which I hope will not straiten you much, and I do not doubt of your hearty Concurrence in so meritorious a Work; You may assure your self of His Majesty's grateful Returns, besides your Repayment; and the particular Obligation thereby you will put upon, Sir, Your obedient and humble Servant. Sic. sub.

MAR,

P. S. Since a great many substantial and worthy Men have at this Time ventured their All in this Cause, it hath been advised to use harsh Means with such as withdraw from assisting in so good a Cause; but the good Opinion I have of your chearful Compliance in this Matter engages me to address you in this Manner.

SIR,

I Had the Favour of yours of the 30th September, last Night, and am very glad you expect to be join'd so soon by those who ought to have been with you long ago.

I have ordered, as you desired, Glengyll, Rob Roy, Ballbadie, and the McGrigars with them, to join you, and to follow the Orders you give them.

D 4

Your

Your Chief his Highland-men were last Night in Strathbarle, but it will be the End of the Week e'er he with his Low Country People and his Horse can be here, and longer I'm afraid before Seaforth can, by Reason of some Interruptions he finds in these Parts from Earl Sutherland, the Monroes, Rosses, &c. But I have wrote to him To-day, and I hope he'll be with us soon with good Numbers, and yet not leave that Country entirely open to the Enemy.

This and some other Things will make it longer e'er I can march from this Place, than I intended; but I shall lose no Time, and during my Stay we shall not be idle, as the Bearer can tell you, we have not been already: We have found a new Use for Horse, a Party of them two Nights ago took a Ship in the Road of Bruntisland with Arms and Amunition; this is a good Beginning, and e'er long I hope to give you Account of some thing more considerable.

The Service you are going about, were once the Rest joined you, is of great Consequence; and the more, because of the Arms Glenderule writs me are lately put into Inverary; Therefore you are to loose no Time in going about it with all Expedition, but you would take Care that you be sufficiently able to execute it, and out of Danger of being affronted. I will not begin with burning Houses, so I hope you will have no Occasion of doing that to the House of Inverary, and tho' you may threaten it, you must not put it in Execution till you acquaint me, and have my Return. Let Care also be taken of the Policy (as they call it) about the House, so that it receive no Damage, and every Thing else as little as possible.

After you have done the Work at Inverary, which, upon Resistance, I think you had better do by a Blocad than Storm, you may proceed Westward conform to the former Orders; but by Reason of my not marching from hence so soon as I intended, you would not march so far that Way, but that you can join us upon Occasion, nearer than Monteth, if there should be Need for it; tho' I scarce believe there will, or that we can send you a Reinforcement from hence, if they should think of attacking you with any considerable Force from Stirling.

Let me hear from you Accounts of your Procedure from Time to Time.

I hope the fifty Bolls Meal I sent you is with you e'er now, and that you will make Shift with that, the Carriage from hence being so far.

My Service to Glengary and Glenderule, which is all I have now Time to say, but that I am
Sir, Your most obedient humble Servant,

MAR.

From the Camp of Perth,
October 4th 1715.

SIR,

SIR,

I Wrote to you this Morning so fully, that I did not think of writing again for several Days; but your's of the 3d, together with Glengary's and Glenderule's of the same Date which I had To-night, does so surprize, with those to join you not being yet come up, nor that you expect them till Thursday, that I could not but renew your former Orders, and that the Loss of Time may be made up in Diligence and Dispatch after they do join you.

The Delay has made your Work more difficult, by its allowing Finab to get some Men together at Inverary, and those who came not up to you conform to their Orders and Appointment have themselves to blame for it. But there's an absolute Necessity to disperse those People with Finab, which you must immediately after your Folks come up to you, set about, and conform to your former Orders, make yourselves Masters of Inverary. This had been an easy Work had People come to Glengary in Time, and since they are by their Delays the Occasion of any Difficulty that's now in it, I think it lies upon them to be the most active and forward in removing it; which I am persuaded they will not disappoint me in, as you may tell them from me with my Compliments to them.

The

The Army now here is now on a regular Foot of Pay, at Three-pence a Day and three Loaves, or that Quantity of Meal in Place of the Bread, which is fully as good as the Pay of the Soldiers at Stirling. I hope you will easily find Provisions for subsisting the Army with you till we meet, and you would keep an Account of the Pay till that Time, which shall be made up then to each of the Men with you.

I suppose the Men with you will not be over-well armed; but what they want of that can be well supplied at Inverary, where I know a goodly Number are lately come, and the Highland Men sure will not let the Affront lay on them, of their being left there.

Pray return my Thanks to Glenderule for the Cows he has provided you with, which I hope shall be no Loss to him in a little Time, and give my humble Service to Glengary, of whom I see every Day new Proofs of Honour and Worth, which his King and Country cannot but be ever mindful of. I'll trouble you no more now, but I'll long to hear from you; and I am with all Esteem, Sir, Your most obedient humble Servant.

MAR,

From the Camp of Perth,
October 4th 1715.

A Person who was at Stirling Yesterday (whose Report I have Ground to credit) informs me that Finab had writ to the Duke of Argyle that, Lochyeal, Appin, and Lochnel offers to come in under the Protection of the Government, and that his Grace had writ to Finab to receive them, and assure them of Protection.

October 5th.

This I had just now from a good Hand near Stirling; but I hope his Information is not true, for I cannot believe it possible that those Gentlemen have so little Honour and Honesty. However, I thought it fit to send it you, and you may show it to Glengary and Glenderule, and if you think fit to the Gentlemen themselves. I was forced to keep your Man till now that it is after nine a-Clock.

John Earl of Mar, &c. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.

OUR SOVEREIGN LORD James the VIII. having been pleased to intrust me with the Direction of his Affairs, and the Com-

Command of his Forces in Scotland, and it being absolutely necessary to raise Money for their Support and Maintenance: These are therefore in His Majesty's Name, requiring and commanding you the Magistrates and Town Council of Montrose to Raise and Levy six Months Cess, in full of all former Cess, extending to the Sum of fifty six Pounds seventeen Shilling and Three-pence Sterling Money, to be proportioned in the usual Manner, and paid in to John Spence Town Clerk of the said Burgh of Montrose, Collector appointed for that End; upon the 10th of October Instant; with Certification if you fail therein, that you will be quartered upon, and pinded for the same; and ordains these Presents to be published at the Market Cross of Montrose, that none may pretend Ignorance.

Given at the Camp at Perth, the 6th Day of October 1715.

John Spence, you are ordered to transmit your Collection to Alexander Watson of Wallace-Cragie, General Collector appointed for the Shire of Forfar, for which he is impowered to give you Receipt.

MAR.

SIR,

Sir,

Yours I had the Favour of late last Night; the threatning of the Garrison hinders my Men much from rising; however, I shall make all possible Dispatch, and will be as yet, by all I see, as ready to joyn you as the Malleanes. I hear there is some Debates betwixt him and Lochbu, who will not joyn him, nor allow one of his Men to joyn, which hath put a Stop all this Time to Sir John's ferrying. I wrote to Sir John some Days ago to lay aside all Debates, and to ferry with such as he hath in Readiness. I met Clanranald on his March, and told him it was the General's express Orders to him to joyn you at Glenurchy, yet I am informed he hath taken the Badenoch Rod. Appin, how soon he joyns you, will acquaint you what pass betwixt him, Lochnel and me, having met them, in order to have the positive Answer, which you will be informed of by Appin. Sir Donald is march'd and Fraferdale; it will be Monday or I can march, but will then with all Expedition march towards you. Appin is to begin his March this Day. Being in haste, with my humble Service to Glengary; and please receive the same, is all from, much honoured, your most affectioned humble Servant.

October 6th 1715.

All

All my Friends and my self hath received threatening Letters from the Governor of Fort William, showing, That he hath express Orders to fall upon us, and destroy all, how soon we rise, which Letter I'll shew you at meeting.

*To the much honored Major-General
Gordon Commander of His Majesty's Forces at Glenurchie.*

Honoured Sir,

Your Line met me on the Road coming to this Place, and I shall be, God willing, at Auchtertyre on Saturday Night or Sunday Morning, and I could wish you would order Provisions before me, for I have been thir three Days buying up and down where I could get, but it turns to no account. I marched my Men fifteen Miles Yesterday, so came here but one easy March this Day. I am your very humble Servant.

To the Honoured General Gordon at Achalder.

Sir,

Sir,

O Gilvie of Boyne came to me last Night, from our Master the King, with my new Commission and Letters, the Letters are all in Cypher, which is a hard one, so they are not yet got decyphered; There is a Letter too in the same Cypher from Allen to Lochyeal; which, as soon as it is decyphered, shall be sent by another Express; but I would not delay sending the inclosed Note of the Signals, that no Time may be lost, in case of the King's coming on the West Coast: I hope Lochyeal is with you e'er now; you would consult with him, Glengarry and Glenderule; and what other of the Gentlemen with you, you think fit, how to place trusty People along that Coast, for receiving and answering the Signals, and doing what else is necessary upon that Occasion. Be sure there be no Time lost in it.

I understand from Boyn, before Lochyeal's Letter is decyphered, that it is desiring him to leave some of his Men about his Place of the Country to expect a Ship with Arms; so this he would take Care of it, and when I send his Letter decyphered, which will be in a few Hours, he'll know this more particularly. I'm now afraid your Army is not strong enough, and if you and the Gentlemen with you think so,

fo, you may call for Lord Broadalbine's two Battalions, who were to have march'd here, and I have sent Orders to them to halt, until they hear from you; therefore you must write to them, whether they should join you or me, which they will do, according as you order them.

Earl Marisbal with 200 Horse is just coming in, and Lord Huntly is to be with us To-morrow.

This is all I have Time to say, but that I am, Sir, your most obedient humble Servant.

From the Camp of Perth, October the 7th, after Ten a-Clock.

Since writing I find my Cypher does not answer to Lockyeat's Letter, therefore I send it as it is inclosed, and I hope he has the Cypher for it himself.

The Answer from the Ship, Lochyeal.

If any Ship be seen chased, Boats to be immediately sent off. This to your self.

From the Camp of Perth, October 7th 1715, Friday Night.

Sir,

Since writing this Morning, I have got Part of my Letters decyphered, and by what I can judge, I think the most probable Place where the King will land, is some where near to Dumbarton about Lochlong, and I know not but he may be there before you can reach that; This you will soon see makes it absolutely necessary for you, and the People with you, to finish your Business without Loss of Time in Argyleshire, and to march straight towards Dumbarton, and there to expect him, or further Orders from me. I have ordered Lord Broadalbin's two Battalions that were coming here; forth-forthwith to march to join you, without waiting further Orders either from you or me. I have prest it home to Lord Broadalbine; so I have no doubt of their doing so, and of their being with you soon. I hope that will make you more than sufficient to deal with any Thing that the Enemy can bring against you; but if you think otherwise, let me know it, and I shall send you more; tho' I am persuaded you will not want it.

I have ordered 2000 Men to cross the Water from Bruntisland to Leith, and most of them will be at Bruntisland to Night; so To-morrow, I hope, they will get over without Opposition, there being no Men of War in the Road; and had there been any, I had laid a Project for taking her, which could hardly have fail'd.

Our Friends in the South are to be together both of Scots and English on Monday next, to a goodly Number, and, if it please GOD, to give this Detachment a safe Passage, we shall have our Enemies in a Hose-net.

I have ordered the whole Army here to march To-morrow Morning towards Stirling, which the Enemy will get Intelligence of, so will not adventure to give any Disturbance either to our Friends about Edinburgh, or to you in the West.

Tho' I judge the Place abovementioned the most probable for the King's landing, yet I am by no Means sure of it, nor is it fit even this Probability should be known; and it must not alter what I wrote this Morning concerning Lochyeal. I have sent a Party of Horse this Morning to Angus to watch the Coasts there, and I have wrote to Lord Huntly to send back a Hundred Horse for that Use to the Shire of Bamff. This is taking all the Methods I can think of to make his landing safe, and we must leave the rest to Providence, which, I hope, will conduct him to us without Danger.

Lord Marishal joined us To-day with 300 good Horse, and Lord Huntly is to be here Tomorrow with 500 Horse, and his Low Country Foot, his Higblanders of Badenoch, Strathdown, &c. being come already, and Lord Seaforth will bring up our Reer.

I leave it to you what of this to communicate to the Gentlemen with you, you think fit, but I believe you may trust Glengary with it all.

I send an Officer of Strewan's with this, as I did likewise with that in the Morning, so I hope it will come safe to you.

I'll long impatiently to hear from you, and if you write within two Days to come, or perhaps three, send it straight to Perth, for a certain Reason, and there I'll leave Orders where where it shall follow me. I am yours, &c.

MAR.

Taymouth, 8th October 1715,
Ten a-Clock in the Morning.

Sir,

I Received the Inclosed within this Hour from the Earl of Mar, which I have transmitted to you with all Diligence; and as my Lord writes to you concerning the Alteration of the March of my Men in this Shire, which I shall obey, to that End has immediately sent Orders in Place of the randevouzing here, to randevouze at Killin, Monday and Tuesday, and Wednesday to join you, if your Station be where you are, and if otherwise, to send your Orders directed to any commands my Men to come to you where you'll be, having appointed Eight Days Loan to each Man; when that's done, see how to provide for them as you do for the rest of that Army. I know many of them will want Arms, and all of them Ammunition, of which they were to be supplied in case they had gone to Pertb; therefore do you now take Care how they shall be supplied as to these Wants; You'll believe I will be extreamly concerned to hear daily from you, which pray forget not to do, and concert with the Commander of my Men the proper Posts to go betwixt us. I am, Sir, your very assured Friend, and humble Servant,

BROADALBINE.

To Major General Gordon, at the Camp in Achalader.

Letter Major General Gordon to Mar, October 9th, 1715.

My Lord,

I Have received the Honour of both yours together, with the Signals and Lochyeal's Letter, which I have forwarded this Moment. I shall do all that is in my Power to answer your Lordship's Expectation in every Point. If I were sure Lochyeal, Keappoch, and Appin would be up in Time, I would not desire my Lord Broadalbine's Perth Shire Men; but seeing there is no depending upon them, having shown such unpardonable Backwardness, I am obliged to take Broadalbine's Men, and with the McDonalds and them shall march to Inverary, without losing of more Time. I doubt not, God willing, of Success, and shall at the same Time send a Party of as many as I can possibly spare to Dumbarton, with Glenary, to observe the King's landing: But if I end Matters at Inverary, soon shall march forward with the whole Body. I shall, my Lord, be

be as diligent and careful of every Thing as I possibly can. The Officer pressing to win off, shall trouble your Lordship no further.

Another to the Earl of Mar, October 12th, from Auchtertyre.

My Lord,

I Am quite out of Patience with Lockyeal, Keappoch, and Appin, neither of them being as yet joined: But I expect Appin (who should have been with me two Days ago) with his Men this Night. And I hear Broadalbine's Men are likewise to be here this Day. There are only at present at this Place 1100 Men, 300 of which are wanting Arms: There are likewise 200 of Broadalbine's Men wanting Arms: But how soon Broadalbine's and Appin's Men join us, I shall go streight, in Obedience to your Lordship's former Orders, to Inverary; before which Time I am hopeful not to trouble your Lordship with any further Accounts. There is a Man in this Place from whom there was this Day some black Cattle bought; but he would accept of no other Credit than a Bill on your Lordship, which is of 200 L. Sterling, payable on Sight, which I intreat your Lordship will be pleased to cause pay, that the Man may have no Occasion of grumbling. There is no Meal, as I formerly wrote your Lordship, to be got for Money, and there are already some of the Men fallen sick for Want of Bread; therefore intreats your Lordship will be pleased to send an hundred Bolls.

The Lieutenant taken by Glengary, and the other taken by Clanronald, are here, with all the Men that were under their Command; I intreat your Lordship will be pleased to let me know what shall be done with them, or what Encouragement they can have, if they engage in his Majesty's Service.

Much Honoured,

THis Day Sir John McLean ferried, and I am to march Monday next with all the Men I can make, which will not be the Number I could wish, considering the Threatnings of the Garrison of Inverlochy, the Governor having written to all the Gentlemen of the Country, as he did to myself, that he had received Orders to destroy all belonging to such as rise in Arms at this Time; however, I doubt not to make something of a Party, notwithstanding of all Threatnings. I have not been two Nights in one Place since I parted with you, nor will not, till I have the Honour to join you.

The

The young Man I spoke to you of, Mr. McLachlan, who was with me at Taymouth, inclines very much to serve you as Edicang; and I doubt not but he will satisfy you; and unless I thought him a fit Person, and capable, I would not take upon me to recommend him. Hoping in a short Time to wait of you, I am, with all Respects, honoured Sir, your most humble and most obedient Servant,

J. CAMERON.

October 9th 1715.

To Major General Gordon.

From the Camp of Perth, October 11th 1715.

S I R,

I Long to hear from you in Answer to two of mine of the 7th, which I sent by two of Stewart's Officers; I hope they came safe to your Hands, and that you have in a good Measure put your Orders in Execution.

Before I go further, I must tell you a Story that passes here, tho' I give no Credit to it: A Gentleman past two Days ago at Dundee, who said, That the Day before he had seen in a Coffee-house at Edinburgh, the Lairds of Lochyeal and Lochinnell, who had come into the Government, and submitted, and that Duke of Argyle had wrote for Remissions to them; this I think hardly possible of either, but I thought it fit to let you know it.
and

Earl of Broadalbine came here last Night, and he goes To-morrow early to join you in Argyl-Shire, where he says his Perth-Shire Men have already gone to join you.

I have discoursed him fully, and he is very hearty; when he comes to you, you are to consult and advise every Thing with him, and he has got a little Money for the Use of your Army.

All I have to add to my former Orders, is, That you are forthwith, upon Receipt of this, immediately to send a Detachment of Five or Six hundred trusty Men to Dumstaffnage, where they are to remain till further Orders, and send a discreet, sensible Officer on their Head.

After this Detachment are gone from you, you will still be strong enough, I judge, when Broadalbine's Men have join'd you, to pursue and execute the former Orders.

Lord Huntly came up to us on Thursday Morning; but we were so throng here, that he went back to his Men at Campar of Angus, until we could order their Accommodation here, and he and they are to be up with us To-morrow.

I made a Movement of the whole Army last Day towards Stirling; but after we had marched marched about three Miles from hence, I had certain Intelligence of the Enemies not moving, notwithstanding of Stories we had of a Detachment being from them at Dunfermling: Upon which I made a Halt, and drew them up in two Lines, and at the Head my Commission was read, with several hearty Huffs's to GOD save the King; and then I brought them back to Persh to wait the coming up of the rest of our Friends.

The Detachment in Fife have not yet got over, and there's now three Men of War in the Road; but notwithstanding I am hopeful to get them yet past over.

I had Accounts t'other Day from Father Innes at Paris of the ninth current, N. S. telling, that he hop'd the King would be with us, as soon as that Letter; and in such a Way, that in all human Probability he could not fail of a safe Passage, which God *grant may prove so.

Last Night the Noblemen and Gentlemen here signed a Letter to the Duke of Orleanco Regent of France, which is going away this Day; I hope the King will not be on that Side when it arrives, but it may do Good, and can do no Hurt; I have wrote the Reason why you and those Gentlemen with you are not Subscribers to it.

I had this Day a Gentleman from Stirling, with Accounts that Duke of Argyle, upon hearing of our Detachment to Fife, had ordered

Three

Three hundred Dragoons to be in Readiness; and some Foot upon Baggage Horses; but upon Intelligence of the Strength of the Detachment, did not think fit to send them out; That in place of Evans's Dragoons coming to them, the Government in Ireland had writ to him for Succours, that Country being in Commotion. He saw a Letter from Lady Douglas to her Son the Duke at Stirling, telling him of the North of England being in Arms, but that they were all Papists.

I expect to hear one of these Days of the Motions of our Friends in the South.

I'll add no more now; Broadalbine being to be with you so soon; only I earnestly recommend to your Care the sending of this Party to Dunstaffnage, for 'tis of Consequence, and I wish you could send some Horses with them for Carriage, and let the Officers be well mounted. I am, Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

M A R.

I suppose you know that Lawers has play'd the Jad; tho' a great many of his Men have deserted him: I am to send you some Ammunition. Just as I am finishing this, I have received yours of the ninth, wherein I am glad to see your Diligence.

Since writing I have a Letter from Mr. Forrester of Banborow in Northumberland of the 6th, telling telling me of their actually being in Arms there, and that next Day they would be Seven hundred Horfe, and very soon a great many more.

Gentlemen,

THE Necessity of the King's Affairs, and the Safety of the Country at this Juncture, requiring that every good Scotsman be assisting to the Publick, according to his Ability, and having desir'd that the Sum of Five hundred Pounds Sterling Money be borrowed from particular Burgeesses of the Town of Montrose for the Use of the King's Army, for which they shall have the publick Credit, to be repaid with Interest from the Time of the Advance, I thought fit to acquaint you therewith, that ye might proportion it amongst them in such Manner as may be most easy for the Inhabitants, and most effectual for raising the said Sum; Your speedy Compliance herewith will prevent further Trouble. I am, Gentlemen, your most humble Servant.

Finlarigo, Sunday 12th October in the Forenoon.

SIR,

THere is Application made to me by these Prisoners, asserting their Innocence as to what is laid to their Charge, both those who were taken by Appin's Men, and those taken at Dalmullie the other Night; The last Prisoners were, as well as the first, my Men in Finab's Company, and some of them, as I am inform'd, coming up to me upon my Call, which I gave to all my Men who were in that Company, and doubt not will be daily dropping to me; be pleas'd therefore, if you think it fit, to send them to me under a Guard, and confront their Accusers with them; and write to me the whole Matter of Fact, and I shall deal with them according to their Guilt, and send their Arms with them. I doubt not but they will be good and faithful Soldiers to me, notwithstanding their being in that Service, which was by my Allowance several Years ago. I remain, Sir, your very humble Servant and assured Friend,

SIR,

SIR,

I Came Yesterday from Perth to Taymouth, and to this Place this Day about three of the Clock, where I received your Letters, expressing your Desire of meeting me here, upon my Advertisement which now I give you, hoping you will be here some time To-morrow, and bring with you any principal Persons as are with you, or not, as you think fit; I have Letters for you from Earl Mar, which I think unnecessary to send you until you come here, being I know their Contents, and are left open for you; I haste this Express, that you may be the sooner here. I am your most humble Servant, and faithful Friend.

BROADALBINE.

Finlarige, 13th October 1715.

To General Major Gordon at the Camp in Strathfillan.

My dear Lord,

I Had the Pleasure of your Lordships of the 13th last Night; I have now sent One hundred Bolls Meal, and what Quantity of Ammu-

Ammunition we could spare, for the Use of the Army with General Gordon, all which is sent under an Escort of forty Men to Taymouth, and from thence your Lordship will take Care to transport it to your Army. You ask for News, and I can tell you a good Deal pretty agreeable; most of our Fife Detachment are got over to the other Side, and proclaimed the King Yesterday at Haddingtoun. I have just now a Letter from Mr. Forrester with three Letters they had intercepted, one from Lord Townsend to Duke of Argyle, one from Lord Nottingham to Duke of Roxburgh, and one from the Prince Hopeful to Duke of Argyle of the 7th, of which I send your Lordship a Copy, and by that you will judge pretty well of the Situation of our Enemies; by Hopeful's Letter it will seem that the Duke of Ormond is in England by this Time: Mr. Forrester's Letter is three Days after his last to me; he was then Three hundred Horse, and was to be join'd next Day by all the Border, and to go streight to Newcastle, which they were sure of, and of getting good Numbers of the best Foot in the North of England to join them; by them and our Men on the South-side, all Correspondence betwixt London and the Duke of Argyle will be stopt. I have heard nothing yet of these four Battalions, and if Evans's Dragoons from Ireland to Duke Argyle be come; but if the News we had of the Com-motions in that Country be not true, they will cer-

certainly be with him soon, and by that your Lordship will easily see the Necessity of Gordon's finishing his Business in Argyle Shire without Delay, and marching west. Tom. Forrester thinks, and presses my attacking Duke of Argyle before that Enforcement join him, which I wish heartily to do, but that must be as Things happen. The Affair of Argyle-Shire being finish'd by your Lordship and Gordon, is of great Consequence as to this, as well as other Things; Therefore I am sure your Lordship and he will loose no Time in it.

By Lord Notingham's to Duke of Roxburgh, I perceive your Lordship has had the Honour of a Letter from his Grace; to which I have no doubt of your giving a suitable Answer. The Paragraph of the Letter is this. "Not having Time to send you the whole, and beside, it signifies little, tho' what you write to my Lord Broadalbine was in it self very proper, yet I doubt it will have little Effect upon him, unless he were convinced of the Folly of this Attempt, from some Assurance that not only the Preparations against them would be sufficient to suppress them, and that all their Expectations of Assistance from abroad, or by an Insurrection in England, would certainly fail them." These are the Words of the Letter; and 'tis dated the Third of this Month. That of Hopeful to Duke of Argyle is of the 7th, by which they then knew of Duke Ormond's leaving Paris, which they had not when Notingham wrote his Letter; And now that they must know of the Insurrection in England being far from failing us, I leave your Lordship to judge what they are not thinking at London of their Condition. I have read most of Hopeful's Letter to the Company here; what I have not read is the first Paragraph, and that I think your Lordship had best not show either to any Body save to General Gordon. I just now hear from Monteith, that the Earls Hay and Bute are certainly in Argyle Shire, and that there were two Men of War come into Clyde, who were sending their Long-Boats to retake the Boats on Lochlomond which Glen-gyll had seized. I wish with all my Heart this could be prevented, and that these Folks were driven from Inverary, which I am sure your Lordship and General Gordon will loose no Time in doing. I am sorry for more in that Country's following Lawers's Example, and particularly for surpris'd exceedingly with Lochnell's Behaviour, which I knew some Days ago; but I hear they have used him as he deserves. One near Stirling wrote to me two Days ago, that Duke of Argyle had sent him Prisoner to Edinburgh, which I wish may be true. I hope it will not be in the Power of those Rogues to do us much Hurt, especially when your Lordships being heartily in the Cause of your King and Country is known to them; and I assure your Lord.

Lordship those Vassals of yours who misbehave, shall be used as you desire.

I have sent to Aberdeen for the Printing Press,
and we have Lawiers here with whom I advise, as your Lordship recommends. These Men of Glenlyons, you mentioned, were in Fife, and are gone over; so I have sent a Party of the M^r Pbersons with the Meal and Ammunition to Taymouth, who are to return from that, and your Lordship will take Care of it from thence.
I have recommended it to your Doers there, in case of your Absence, and I send this by an Express, that you may have it sooner than that Party can march.

I'll long to hear from your Lordship; and that you'll send me some good News from your Parts in Return for all this.

The Thing I am most Fear about, is our Friends who are gone over to the other Side, because of Mr. Forrester's marching towards Newcastle; and nothing could so much prevent Duke of Argyle sending a Detachment that Way
as your clearing Argyle-Shire soon, and marching Westwards, as Gordon has Order. I am, my dear Lord, your Lordship's most obedient and most humble Servant,

MAR.

From the Camp of Perth,

October 24. 1715.

If your Lordship and General Gordon be not together, I desire you may immediately forward this to him.

Dear Sir,

WE are at length, GOD be thanked, come this length, yet there are some of our Men behind. This Day we march towards Strathfillan; I did receive the General's Letter by Rullines the Day after Appin received his, otherwise I would have given an Return, so you will excuse me at his Excellency's Hand, until I come up myself. I am hopeful my Pretence will be taken as better Service than tho' I had come up sooner. I always am your affectionate humble Servant,

Jo: D.

Achalidare, October 17. 1715.

To the Laird of Glenderule.

IN Obedience to your Commandments I am come this length to wait on you; my Cousin Torloisk will give you Account of the Stops

Stops I have met with, and will carry to me what Orders you will be pleased to give to,
Sir, your most humble Servant.

MACLEAN.

Bail. Chiles, October

13. 1715.

To the Honourable Major General Gordon.

*John Earl of Mar, &c. Commander in Chief of
His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.*

THese are ordering and requiring you forthwith to cause make for the Use of His Majesty's Forces, One hundred and fifty Lochaber Axes, according to the Directions herewith transmitted to you; and you are to take particular Care that they be sufficient and fit for Service, and how soon you have got Fifty of them ready, you are immediately to transmit them to Perth, or where the Army shall happen to be at the Time; and so to continue to send them by Fifty at a Time, as they are got ready, until you have sent up the whole Number abovementioned, which shall be paid for as they are delivered.

And for the more speedy Execution of these our Orders, we hereby require you to imploy all the Workmen you can find in and about the Town of Montrose, for making the said Axes. Your punctual and speedy Compliance with these our Orders is expected, as you will answer at your Perils. Given at the Camp of Pertb this 14th October 1715.

MAR.

To the Magistrates of the Town of Montrose.

Honoured Sir,

When I came to Argow, I wrote to Lechyal to tryst me where to meet him; he desired me to go to Achnacar, and said he would see me there in two Days; But he has met with such Difficulties in raising his Men in Moray, who are threatned by Argyle's Friends to be used with utmost Rigour, if they rise with their Chief; he is so fatigued and anger'd with them, that he is rather to be pitied than quarrell'd for his Longsameness. He is mightily abashed for his not being with you before this Time. His People in Lachaber are threatn'd after the same Manner, who was mightily disheartned by People on Purpose sent amongst them:

them: He is to take other Measures with them than he did at first with the Morvan Men, and is resolv'd to be with you once next Week. Since I have here stayed so long, I incline to come along with Lochyeal. I presume to trouble you to offer my humble Service to Glengary, and the other Gentlemen with you. I am, to the utmost of my Power, Honoured Sir, your most humble and obedient Servant,

M-GREGOR.

Achnacar, October

14. 1715.

Finlarige, October 15. 1715.

Sir,

I Have received the Inclosed at this Instant, at Two a-Clock, and has transmitted it to you as most necessary; Let me hear your Resolution as to the Effects of it: I do not find by it any Reason for you to alter the Resolution we left at, but leaves that to your better Judgment. After your taking Copies of the Incloseds, return them to me; for I took scarce Time to read them. I shall haste up the Provision and Ammunition. I hope they will be here this Night, if the Wind prove fair: But the Difficulty is how to get them by Land to Killin, and from thence to you; but all Diligence shall be used. I find it was more needful for me to stay here, that I may hear daily from you once or twice, as Affairs require. My Service to your Officers. I remain your assured Friend and most humble Servant,

BROADALBINE.

I delay sending to the Earl of Mar until your Letter come here, and then will have more to say,

To Major General Gordon at the Camp at Strathfillan.

From the Camp of Perth, October 15. 1715. Two a-Clock.

SIR,

I Had yours late last Night, and Glenderule's of the 12th, and I hope this Day you are march'd.

I wrote Yesterday to Earl Broadalbine to be communicated to you, which I hope came late.

Upon

Upon our Peoples getting over to the other Side, I have Accounts from Stirling of last Night, that the Duke of Argyle the Night before sent 150 Dragoons towards Edinburgh; upon this I did no think fit to move: But I have just now Accounts, that he marched himself last Night with most of his Army the same Way; upon which I have called in all the Parties I had in Fife and elsewhere, and ordered the whole Army to march To-morrow Morning early towards Stirling, and I hope we shall find an easy Passage there. You'll see by this how necessary it is for you to finish your Work in Argyle Shire, that you may march West to join us in Monteith, or to march further West as you shall receive Orders, I suppose Earl Ilay, and those with him at Inverary, when they know of Argyle's being gone, will not wait their coming, but if they do, you must not spend your Time there, but leave as many as will block them up, and march the rest of your Army towards Monteith, where I shall have Orders waiting you.

You are not to recal your Detachment at Dunstaffnage, nor Lochyeal's Men, who were ordered to wait that Ship with Arms: But this alters the Orders I gave you as to your marching towards Dumbarton.

You will easily see the Necessity of all this; so I need say nothing to enforce the Need of your making Dispatch to be near Monteith against gainst we come there, which I reckon will be Tuesday.

I have sent a Copy of this to Earl Broadalbane, in case he and you are not together; but I doubt not but his Men are with you long e'er now, and all the rest you expected.

I have sent two Expresses to Lord Seaforth, to acquaint him of our March, and that he should haste up to us; and I have called in all our Party every where. We have had a Story here these two Days, that Lord Seaforth has had an Engagement with Lord Sutherland, in which Sutherland is taken Prisoner, Foulis mortally wounded, and 160 of their Men killed:
This Account comes at different Times from several Places: But I have had no Letters for some Time from Lord Seaforth, which makes me conclude that they are intercepted. I am,
Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

MAR.

I have named the General Officers of the Army, and you have the Rank of Lieutenant-General of the Foot.

Glenco,

Glouce, October 7. 1715.

May it please your Excellency,

Yesternight late I had the Honour of yours. Upon Thursday Part of my Men came to this Place, I came with the rest Yesterday. I wait to raise the People here, since I find that Lockneal is not to convey his Men till Tuesday next in Lochaber. I believe I may stay here till Monday, which, I think, will not be amiss, lest you may be straitned for Lodgings there; but if you have Use for any of my Men, I may send some how soon you think fit, for I'll be in Auchriballan. I am, with very much Respect, Sir, your most humble Servant,

RO. STEWART.

To his Excellency Major General Alexander Gordon at Achalader.

SIR,

THe' I wrote to you last Night, I could not forbear writing again to you now, and sending it express, to let you know that the whole whole Army here is march'd, and are to be this Night at Auchterarder, and To-morrow I believe at Dumblain; and from thence, as soon as we can, to pass the Heads of Forth.

I have Reason to believe, that it will not be long before the Duke of Argyle return to Stirling: I know that what he carried with him towards Edinburgh was mostly Dragoons, and few Foot; so his March back may be as sudden and quick as it was there.

By this you will see, that it is absolutely necessary that you march with all Expedition to join us as we pass Forth.

What is at Inverary can't stop you; the House will not contain great Numbers, nor will it weaken you much to leave double the Number of them to block them up, which you must do at least with some pretty active fellow to command.

I send this streight to Argyle Shire, where I conclude you are now, and immediately upon Receipt of it, you are to march towards Monteith, where I reckon you may be on Thursday Forenoon. You must let me know by Express, as soon as you get this, which Road you take, and where you think it best for us to join in that Country.

The Road you come there will be no Difficulty, I'm told, for you to pass Forth before you join us, if that be thought expedient; and of this you would advise with Lord Broadalbine, who is with you; and the other Gentlemen who know the Country; and let me know your Opinion of doing so, or join us first, that I may take my Measures accordingly. If I find that Duke of Argyle return to Stirling, I will endeavour to make the Time of my coming to Monteith the same with yours, and in that case I must halt by the Way.

Pray make all the haste you can, and write to me by two or three different Ways, so soon as you get this, that one or other of them may certainly come to my Hands.

If this reach you before you get to Inverary, I leave it to you whether or not it be better in our present Situation to march directly to Monteith, and to send only to Inverary such a Detachment as you are sure will be Master of all to be done there; for I cannot judge of it at this Distance, being ignorant of what Numbers Earl Ilay and Finab has there; but if you find this practicable of doing the Affair at Inverary by a Detachment, it would save you a great deal of marching, and bring you to us much sooner, which is of great Consequence.

I told you in my last, That the Detachments at Dunstaffnage, and in the other Place, must continue, which I now repeat, that there be no Mistake.

I am just going out to the Head of the Army; so I can add no more, but that I am, Sir, your most humble obedient Servant,

M.A.R.

From the Camp of Perth, Sunday Morning, October 16. 1715.

Since writing, we have just now Accounts of the Duke of Ormonde's being landed in England.

Auchterture, October 16th, 1715.

My Lord,

I Have been here thir nine Days after a March of One hundred and fifteen Miles, which was occasioned by a Misinformation from this Place, that Glengary was gone to join your Lordship at Perth; but getting a Line from General Gordon at Badenoch, from which Place I resolv'd to join your Lordship, I altered my March and came to this Place, in hopes that my Neighbours would be here in a few Days after me; but few of them are come yet, but I am hopeful they will be up by Tuesday. I know not, my Lord, what Excuse they can have for their Delay, when I that lies at three Times their Distance brought up my Men a Fortnight before before them. But, my Lord, on any such Occasion, as we now have, it never was otherwise, but we were the first in the Fields, and the last out of it. If any Arms could be set up we would need them; but if there be no Way for it, I promise your Lordship, that he shall not be backward with what he has. This is, my Lord, with all respect, your Lordships Cousin and most humble Servant,

CLANRONALD.

Honoured Sir,

I Received yours, and I am glad that Lochyeal has undertaken to leave a Party sufficient to guard the Country from the Incursions of the Garrison. I wish he may perform it; but all I hear he intends to do is, to bring all his People with him, excepting a few that lives next adjacent to Fort William, who of Necessity must be under the Garrison's Protection, rather as a sufficient Party to withstand them, or guard themselves or others. However, when he marches, and passes this Country, I shall follow with all I can get of my own Country, which is all the Answer I can give at present, says that that I am, honoured Sir, your most humble and obedient Servant,

COL. MACDONEL.

To the Honourable General Gordon commanding His Majesty's Forces at Glenurchie.

WHereas the Right Honourable John
Earl of Mar, Commander in Chief of His Majesty King James VIII. his Forces in Scotland, and intrusted by His Majesty with the Direction of his Affairs within this Kingdom, by his Order duly published and proclaimed at the Market-Crois of Coupar on the sixth of October Instant, in His Majesty's Name required and commanded all Men betwixt Sixty and Sixteen Years of Age, within the Shire of Fife, then forthwith to have repaired to the Camp at Perth, or where the Army should be for the Time, with their best Cloaths, Horses and Arms, and Forty Days Provision, or Loan at Six Shillings Scots a Day; or otherwise that every Heritor, Féuar or Wadsetter then attending the King's Standard, and such Heritors as were or might be excused, or their Factors or Doers in their Absence, and likewise all Liferenters, should immediately proportion and raise among the Tenants and Possessors

fessors of their respective Estates and Liferent Lands, the Sum of Twenty Shillings Sterling upon each hundred Pounds Scots of valued Rent;
 and that such Heritors, who did not then, or should not betwixt and the Tenth of October, attend the Kings Standard, if not excused by the said Earl of Mar, should then immediately proportion and raise among the Tenants and Possessors of their respective Estates, the Sum of Forty Shillings Sterling upon each hundred Pound Scots of valued Rent; which several Proportions, according to the respective Cases foresaid, were appointed to be paid by every Heritor, Feuar, Wadsetter and Liferenter, to John Smith Writer in Coupar of Eise, Collector appointed for End at the Burgh of Coupar, on or before the said Tenth Day of October Instant, with Certification, that Parties should be sent to quarter upon, and point the Heritors and Tenants, who refused or delayed to give Obedience to the said Order; and upon giving Obedience thereto, it is thereby directed, That all Tenants and Possessors of Lands, their Cottars and Servants should be freed from attending the Army, and should have ample Protection for their Persons and Goods: These are therefore by Warrant of the said Order, intimating, and requiring all Heritors, Feuars, Wadsetters, Liferenters and others, and the Tenants and Possessors of their Lands, to repair to the Burgh of Coupar, upon the Seventeen and Eighteen Days of October Instant, and there to make Payment to the said John Smith of the Twenty Shillings Sterling, and Forty Shillings Sterling respectively, payable by them in the Cases foresaid, with Certification so such as faikie, that they, and the Tenants and Possessors of their Lands, will be immediately thereafter pointed, and otherwise distressed, as by the said Order is directed for Payment thereof, JO. SMITH.

S P R.

I Received yours of the 18th Instant, and has by this Bearer sent Orders for raising my Men in that Shire, to be commanded by such Persons as shall be concerted by Generals, young Barcaldan and John Campbell, Bailie Dougall and his Son. I hope there shall be little Difference amongst them in contending for Posts, since I hope this Work will not last long, especially in that Shire; nor do I think that you will march my Men out of that Shire, out of it allenarly, but leave them with my Pertshire Men, to attend the Business of Dunstaffnage, or the Coast-side, which may prove more effectual than any Addition they can make to the grand Army. I shall be very uneasy until I hear the Event of your March to Inverary, which I hourly expect. I am pleased with the Hopes

Hopes you have to accommodate that Affair, I pray God; grant it be so. I have ill sparing of old Barraldus, whom I must keep here, and has ordered Glendon to march as you desired, and keep some of that Battalion while I remain here. I know you will take the same Care of my Men as of others, as to Arms, Provisions and Ammunition, whom I recommend feriously to you, and of whom I have taken Care all my Life. So wishing daily to hear from you, I remain, Sir, your very faithful Friend and humble Servant,

BROADALBINE.

Falarigé, 9th October 1715.

*To Lieutenant General Gordon
at the Camp in Argyllshire;*

From the Camp of Auchterarder, October 19th 1715, Twelve o'Clock.

S I R,

I just now had yours, and Glendon's of the 17th, and Glengary's of the 18th: I am heartily sorry for the Disappointments you have met with; and these Gentlemen have much to answer for; who have made so many Delays;

and will take a great Deal of good Service in them to excuse that, and not going to Inverary with you; where the King's Service absolutely required their going and dispersing those People; but I hope you'll be able to do it without them.

We march'd on Sunday as I wrote to you, and Monday Night the Foot were at Airdock, and the Horse at Dumblain.

Yesterday Morning I got Intelligence of Argyle's returning towards Stirling with most of his Men, and that Evans's Dragoons were come to the West from Ireland, and marching towards Stirling too; I was uncertain of the Time of their coming up to us, and we were very scarce of Provisions, which would be some Time of coming up from Perth; and the Enemy have destroyed most of the Corns about Dumblain and Down. This March of ours having had one of the Effects I intended, That of drawing off Argyle from our Friends, who had got over the Water; and considering the Uncertainty of your coming up with us, Lord Seaforth's not being yet come, the Want of Provisions and Forrage, which would be some Time of coming from Perth, and not to be got in the Country West-ward, and the Enemy getting a Reinforcement before we could; all these I say made me think it more prudent to return here last Night than to go forward, and to wait here; hearing from you.

This

This is a very poor Place, and since you cannot be up with Us this Week, I have resolv'd to return too, with most of the Army to Pertb, and to wait your joining Us there, which is now necessary you should with all Expedition, as soon as you have dispers'd those at Inverary, or block'd them up in the House there; so you wou'd make all the Haste with it you can, and come with your whole Army directly to Pertb to join Us, except those Parties I formerly ordered to Dunstaffnage, and that other Place where Lochyeal's Party was appointed, and I'll expect you there with Impatience, for we loose much Time, and our Friends in the South will blame us much. I hope none of these scrupulous Gentlemen, who are so tender of their Enemies in that Country where you are, will scruple their marching with you towards Pertb.

I forget if I wrote you, That by an unlucky Mistake, Bregadeer M'Intosh marched from Haddingtoun to the Citadale of Leith, where Argyle came before him on Saturday last with Three hundred of his Dragoons, some Foot, and the Militia of that Country; he ordered the Militia to attack them, but they refused, and our Men insulted them from the Ramparts; upon this Argyle drew off to Edinburgh, and was to have cannonaded and bombarded them next Day, but at Night our People march'd away to Seaton House without any Trouble, and took Post there, Argyle followed them next Morning, but could not attack them without Cannon, which he ordered to be brought: But on Monday Afternoon, hearing of our March towards Stirling, he with all his Men, save one hundred Horse, and one hundred and fifty Foot, who he left with the Militia of Lothian to watch our People, march'd himself with the Rest of his Men towards Stirling, where he arriv'd late last Night, and was in no little Fear of us. Had those People with you not kept you from coming up with us in Time, he would have had good Reason, but that cannot now be helped; and I hope our Friends at Seaton are safe, and have join'd with Lord Kennure, and our other Friends.

I need say no more now, but to beg you make all the Haste to us you possibly can, that we may march to our Friends in the South; and I am perswaded, were you once join'd us, the Enemy will not be able to give us much Opposition.

I doubt not of your sending again immediately to Locheal and Cappoch to join you, and that they will not only do it immediately, but be ashamed of their delaying it so long.

Let me hear from you immediately upon your receiving this, and if Lord Broadalbane be not with you, send him a Copy of this upon sight. My humble Service to Glengary and Glendowrie, which I do not writ to, since I have done it so fully to you, and also to the Rest of the honest good

COPY of Captain Thomas Lyell's Orders delivered to the Magistrates of Montrose.

You are hereby ordered to go to Arbroath, and receive from the Magistrates a Company of Men, which they have raised for His Majesty's Service; but if they have appointed an Officer of their own to bring them up to Perth, then you may proceed to Dunblane, and receive such Men as the Magistrates have raised for the King's Service, and bring them along with you when ye return to Perth.

You are also to go to Montrose, and cause bear up for Volunteers. I have written to the Magistrates to assist you; and I desire you may tell the Magistrates, that it is my express Commands to them to give the Freedom of their Town, to all Gentlemen and others who shall lift themselves voluntarily with you, or any of His Majesty's Officers hereafter, and Half a Crown to bring them up to the Army, and what Money they depurse on this Account shall be repaid them out of the first Subsidies raised in their Town. For the doing whereof, this shall be your Warrant. Dated at Perth the 24. of October 1719.

MAR.

SIR,

SIR,

I Wrote to you this Morning, in Answer to yours, with the same Express, which is all I have to say concerning my Men at this Time, and therefore I have dispatch'd Monyvaird as Commissary and Quarter-master to all my Battalions, as I concerted with the Earl of Mur, who promised to send his Commission to him to that Effect; and no doubt it is to come by his Expresses to you, as I wrote to him as the safest Way; therefore I desire you may entertain him in that Character, who will be very useful and necessary to you; he will give you a particular Account of all that I have done at this Place, where I think my Presence is no longer necessary, my Health being very ill, being much fatigued. I remain, Sir, your very assured Friend and humble Servant,

BROADALBINE,

Finlarige, the 20th

October 1715.

I could ill want him, but that I know how useful he will be to you; therefore be kind to him, give them Money to bear the Expence of Expresses towards me, when he is not with you.

To Lieutenant General Gordon at the Camp in Argyle-Shire.

SIR,

S I R,

YOU are hereby impowred and required forthwith to seize the Ship or Barge that came loaded with Onions from Holland, now lying in the Harbour of Montrose, and you are to receive Instructions from Alexander Miln of Ballachie, what is further to be done there with; and for so doing this shall be your Warrant. Given at the Camp at Perth the 21st October 1715.

M A R.

To Robert Miln of Balwyll younger, Provost of Montrose, or to any of the Baillies present there.

At the Side of Lochfine, October 22. 1715.

Much Honoured,

I Was honoured with yours of this Date, desiring to return an Receipt thereof, and by the Memorandum sent to your Excellency with Mr. Duncan Comrie, (which by this Time is at you) 'tis evident, that the Boat and the Freight seized will fall in the Enemies Hands, if I instantly march the Men that are here, since there is no Security for a small Party to guard the

the

the same, the Enemies knowing of our being in this Place; neither is there any Possibility to carry what was seized this Night to the Camp; Therefore, for the above Reasons, I presume to send this Express to wait your further Orders, and if it shall be to march all Night, you shall find that I shall be very ready to obey. Pardon my Freedom in this, and I allowing to subscribe my self; your Excellency's most humble Servant,

GREG. MCGREG.

To Lieutenant General Gordon at the Parks of Inverary.

Sir,

UPON Sight hereof, return with your own and Uncle's Men to the Camp, and leave Glenco's with himself. I am, Sir, your humble Servant,

ALEX. GORDON.

October 21. Ten a Clock.

To the Laird of Glengyle.

Sir,

Str,

I Give you the Trouble of this Line, in order to satisfy you as far as my Memory serves me, of what you desire to know concerning our Rout through some Part of Strathfey; as we were coming South in the End of October last, I was acquainted on Tuesday Morning very early, being the 25th of October, to follow my Lord Seaforth to an Ale-house at the Kirk of Dunball in Strathfey, whither he was gone before to adjust Matters with the principal Gentlemen of the Name of Grant. I came there that Afternoon, where I found my Lord Seaforth, and my Lord Duffus, and Mr. William Sutherland his Brother, and Sir Donald McDonald, and Captain George Grant, the Laird of Grant's Brother, and Colonel William Grant, in one Room together; into which I was brought, and we dined there altogether; all the rest of the Company had been there several Hours before I came: There was in the Outer-room, through which we must all pass into that we were in, Mackenzie of Farburn, Mackenzie of Dackmaluach, John Mackenzie of Avach, and Mackenzie younger of Anchordeonald, and William Mackenzie my Lord's Servant; and several others of that Name. I was likewise told, that there was in the next House one Grant of Elchise, and Grant of present Collector of Supply in the Shire of Inverness, and a great many more of the Gentlemen of that Name and Country, who had had been waiting of my Lord Seafortb before I came up ; but I do not so much as know them by Eye-sight, nor was I ever in that Country in my Life before. I spoke to my Lord Seafortb, and told him, that seeing he had brought out all the Men out of our Countries ; it was but reasonable to have Security from our Neighbours before he went further, not to plunder our Countries when we were gone : To which he answered me, That that Matter was fully settled before I came up ; to which all the Company agreed, which made me press that Matter no further. Seafortb likewise told me, that they were so kind as to furnish him with what Meal and Baggage Horses he had Occasion for to carry alongst for the Use of his Men ; which accordingly was done, as Seafortb's Officers told me.

His Majesty's most Gracious DECLARATION.

JAMES R.

JAMES VIII. by the Grace of GOD, of Scotland, England, France and Ireland King, Defender of the Faith, &c. To all Our Loving Subjects, of what Degree or Quality soever, Greeting. As We are firmly resolved never to omit any Opportunity of Asserting Our undoubted Title to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, and of endeavouring

·Seavouring to put Our self into the Possession ·of that Right, which is devolved upon Us by ·the Laws of God and Man; so must We, in ·Justice to the Sentiments of our own Heart, ·Declare, That nothing in this World can give ·Us so great Satisfaction, as to owe to the En·deavours of Our Loyal Subjects, both Our and ·their Restoration to that happy Settlement,
 ·which can alone deliver this Church and Na·tion from the Calamities which they ly at pre·sent under, and from those future Miseries,
 ·which must be the Consequences of the pre·sent Usurpation. During the Life of Our dear
 ·Sister, of Glorious Memory, the Happiness ·which Our People enjoyed, softened in some ·Degree the Hardship of Our own Fate: And ·We must further confess, That when We reflected ·on the Goodness of Her Nature, and Her In·clinations to Justice, We could not but persuade ·Our self, That She intended to establish and ·perpetuate the Peace, which She had given to ·these Kingdoms, by destroying for ever all ·Competition to the Succession of the Crown,
 ·and by securing to Us at last the Enjoyment of ·that Inheritance, out of which We had been ·so long kept, which Her Conscience must in·form Her was Our Due, and which Her Prin·ciples must lead Her to desire that We might ·obtain.

But since the Time when it pleased Almighty God to put a Period to Her Life, and not to suffer Us to throw Our self, as We then fully purposed to. have done, upon Our People, We have not been able to look on the present Condition of Our Kingdoms, or to consider their future Prospect, without all the Horrour and Indignation, which ought to fill the Breast of every Scotsman.

We have beheld a foreign Family, Aliens to Our Country, distant in Blood, and Strangers even to Our Language, ascend the Throne.

We have seen the Reins of Government put into the Hands of a Faction, and that Authority, which was designed for the Protection of all, exercised by a few of the worst, to the Oppression of the best and greatest Number of Our Subjects: Our Sister has not been left at Rest in Her Grave, Her Name has been scurrilously abused, Her Glory, as far as in these People lay, insolently defaced, and Her faithful Servants inhumanly persecuted; A Parliament has been procured by the most unwarrantable Influences, and by the grossest Corruption to serve the vilest Ends; And they who ought to be the Guardians of the Liberties of the People, are become the Instruments of Tyranny; Whilst the principal Powers engaged in the late Wars, enjoy the Blessings of Peace, and are attentive to discharge their Debts and ease their People, Great Britain, in the midst of Peace, feels all the Load of a War; New Debts are contracted, new Armies are raised at Home, Dutch Forces are are brought into these Kingdoms; And by taking Possession of the Duchy of Bremen; in Violation of the publick Faith, a Door is opened by the Usurper to let in an Inundation of Foreigners from Abroad, and to reduce these Nations to the State of a Province to one of the most inconsiderable Provinces of the Empire.

These are some few of the many real Evils, into which these Kingdoms have been betrayed, under Pretence of being Rescued and Secured from Dangers purely imaginary; And these are such Consequences of abandoning the Old Constitution, as We persuade Our selves, very many of those who promoted the present Unjust and Illegal Settlement never intended.

We observe with the utmost Satisfaction; That the Generality of Our Subjects are awakened with a just Sense of their Danger; and that they show themselves disposed to take such Measures as may effectually rescue them from that Bondage, which has, by the Artifice of a few Designing Men, and by the Concurrence of many unhappy Causes, been brought upon them.

We Adore the Wisdom of the Divine Providence, which has opened a Way to Our Restoration, by the Success of those very Measures that were laid to disappoint Us for ever. And We most earnestly Conjure all Our Loving Subjects, not to suffer that Spirit to faint or die away, which has been so miraculously rais'd in all Parts of the Kingdom ; but to pursue, with all the Vigour and Hopes of Success, which so just and righteous a Cause ought to inspire, those Methods which the Finger of God seems to point out to them.

We are come to take Our Part in all the Dangers and Difficulties to which any of Our Subjects, from the greatest down to the meanest, may be exposed on this important Occasion, to relieve Our Subjects of Scotland from the Hardships they groan under on Account of the late unhappy Union ; and to restore the Kingdom to its ancient, free, and independent State.

We have before Our Eyes the Example of Our Royal Grandfather, who fell a Sacrifice to Rebellion ; and of Our Royal Uncle, who, by a Train of Miracles, escaped the Rage of the barbarous and blood-thirsty Rebels, and lived to exercise His Clemency towards those who had waged War against His Father and Himself ; who had driven Him to seek Shelter in foreign Lands, and who had even set a Price upon his Head.

We see the same Instances of Cruelty renewed against Us by Men of the same Principles, without any other Reason than the Conscioufness of their own Guilt, and the implacable Malice of their own Hearts : For in the Account of such Men, it is Crime sufficient to be born their King. But God forbid that We should tread in these Steps, or that the Cause of a lawful Prince and an injur'd People should be carried on like that that of Usurpation and Tyranny, and owe its Support to Assassines. We shall copy after the Patterns abovementioned, and be ready, with the former of Our Royal Ancestors, to seal the Cause of Our Country, if such be the Will of Heaven, with our Blood: But we hope for better Things: We hope, with the Latter, to see Our just Rights, and those of the Church and People of Scotland, once more settled in a free independent Scots Parliament, on their Ancient Foundation: To such a Parliament (which we will immediately Call) shall We intirely refer both Our and their Interests; being sensible, that these Interests rightly understood are always the same: Let the Civil as well as Religious Rights of all our Subjects Receive their Confirmation in such a Parliament; Let Consciences truly tender be indulged; Let Property of every Kind be better than ever secured; Let an Act of General Grace and Amnesty extinguish the Fears even of the most guilty: If possible, Let the very Remembrance of all which have preceeded this happy Moment, be utterly blotted out, that Our Subjects may be united to Us, and to each other, in the strictest Bonds of Affection as well as Interest.

And that nothing may be omitted which is in Our Power to contribute to this desirable End, We do, by these Presents, Absolutely and Effectually, for Us, Our Heirs and Successors, Pardon, Remit, and Discharge all Crimes of High Treason, Misprifion of Treason, and all other Crimes and Offences whatsoever, done or committed against Us, or Our Royal Father, of Blessed Memory, by any of Our Subjects, of what Degree or Quality soever, who shall, at or after Our Landing, and before they engage in any Action against Us, or Our Forces from that Time, lay hold of Mercy, and return to that Duty and Allegiance which they owe to Us, their only Rightful and Lawful Sovereign.

By the joint Endeavours of Us and of Our Parliament, urged by these Motives, and directed to these Views, We may hope to see the Peace and flourishing Estate of this Kingdom in a short Time restored; and We shall be equally forward to concert with Our Parliament such further Measures, as may be thought necessary for leaving the same to future Generations.

And We hereby Require all Sheriffs of Shires, Stewarts of Stewartries, or their Deputies, and Magistrates of Burghs, to publish this Our Declaration, immediately after it shall come to their Hands, in the usual Places and Manner, under Pain of being proceeded against for Failure thereof, and forfeiting the Benefit of Our General Pardon.

GIVEN under Our Sign Manual and Privy Signet, at Our Court at COMMERCE, the 25th Day of October, and in the Fiftenth Year of Our Reign.

My Lord,

I Am extremely troubled that your Lordship hath not given me Advertisement, that I might have afforded you a Compliment of Men; for tho' I have engaged all, at Distances from me in England and Scotland, here and there, Men I hope would please you. Pray let me know what I shall do, to raise them or not, to be with you or to keep the Borders; so as Things fall out let me know what to do from Time to Time. This Inclosed I broke up, being I supposed, as it has fallen out, only Intelligence; so I did not know where to find you. I hope your Commands, which shall be obeyed by, my dear Lord, yours to command,

P. AT. MAXWEL.

Pray give me timely Advertisement.

If please God you gain Drumfries, put out a Proclamation that you are for the Defence of your Country's Property and Liberty; and order Sermons in the Churches by your own Ministers, and let them preach the same, and order all who do not go to hear Sermon to be seized, seized. Upon that the Commons may hear and believe the Reasons of your taking Arms.

*Report of John M'Lean Trumpet, from Stirling
Camp 1st November 1715.*

I John M'Lean Trumpet went by Order of the Right Honourable Earl of Mar, to the Camp of Stirling from Perth, the 30th October, and on the 31st, nine in the Morning, as I came near to the Bridge of that Place, I sounded two Calls, and a Serjeant with five Men were sent to me, and carried me to the Officer of the Guard, who ask'd me several Questions, and particularly what my Business there with my Trumpet was. I answer'd, that I had brought a Letter from the Earl of Mar to his Grace the Duke of Argyle, which I show'd to the Officer, and this Officer left me a little and return'd, and then carried me to the Duke's Lodging, and from that to the Guard, and about an Hour thereafter the Captain of the Guard ask'd the Letter from me to the Duke, and a little after the Delivery of the Letter I was carried up to a Room above the Guard, and two Gentries put upon the Door, the Captain of the Guard staying with me alone about Half an Hour,

who ask'd me several Questions, particularly, who commanded immediately under the Earl of Mar? What were the Numbers of the Rebels? What was their daily Pay? How near the Earl of Seaforth was, and when the Army design'd to march from Perth? To which I answered, That I did not mind Officers Names, but that there were anew of them, the Foot was upwards of Fifteen thousand, that the Pay was Four-pence Half-penny and Bread per Day, That the Earl of Seaforth was at Dunkel with Four thousand Men, and a Thousand Horse, and that at Perth and Auchterarder there were upwards of Fifteen hundred Horse, and that I heard in a Day or two the Army was to march from Perth, and surround the Duke, and take him and his Army Prisoners; so the Officer left me, and I was shut up. The Person who had the Converse with me was Major Cathcart, sometime thereafter the Captain of the Guard came along with a Centry who brought me my Dinner, viz. Pies, Roast-beef, and Hens and a Bottle of Wine, and in the Afternoon a second Bottle of Wine, and at Night a third. In the Evening a Gentleman came to me with a Paper in his Hand out of which he read the Names of a great many Gentlemen that were wounded near Down, and particularly Mr. George Mackenzie shot through the Neck, and lying mortally sick, and Mackenzie of Rose-end also wounded; to which I answered, that the Evening I came came from the Earl of Mar's Quarters, I saw Mr. Mackenzie perfectly well. The next Day about twelve a-Clock, the Captain of the Guard came up to me, and desired me to take up the Trumpet and come along with him, and when I came to the Guard, General Whittham was there, and spoke to me thus, " You are to acquaint the Earl of Mar, that no Prejudice is done to his Lodging, Planting nor Gardens at Aloa, nor shall be for the Country's Good and the King's Advantage; That the Prisoners were all well used, yea, as well as any Captain in the Army; That the Duke was concerned for the Loss at Dunfermline; and that what was done there, was to prevent Thieving and Robbery, and to keep the Country quiet so far;" Whittham went off, and I was conveyed out of the Garrison by a Serjeant and four Soldiers. Before I came off, I saw Dr. Gordon in a Room off from the Guard, and spoke him. Dr. Gordon desired me to tell the the Marquis of Huntly, that he was most civilly treated, and that the Duke's own Chirurgeon dress his Wounds twice a Day; I saw also several Officers asking him very kindly how he did. Before I came off I was directed to return by the Way of the Muir to be safe from the Scouts. The Army is still incamped in the Park; there is no Fortifications on the Bridge, nor from the Gate within to the Guard. I saw no Centries at the End of the Causey. Mr. Kincart show'd show'd me his embroydered Vest, and ask'd me, if I saw any Gentlemen at Perth with a Vest such as his was. I said I saw Thousands of brow Mens embroydèred Coats and Vests. Perth, 1st November 1715. What is above is true Matter of Fact.

JOHN McLEAN.

Much Honoured,

BY your Orders to our Governors, I have in all haste shipped on Board John Bruce's Boat Eighteen hundred twenty and four brown Loaves, exactly of the former Sizes, and would have sent Twenty five Bells of Lundie's Oat-Meal which came only to me this Afternoon, but your Orders coming so late, the Boat could not receive it and the Bread both, being now eleven a-Clock at Night, I presume to put you in Mind of the Country-mens Secks, if possible to return them. THese are ordering and requiring you forthwith to send to Auchterarder for the Use of His Majesty's Forces there, One hundred and twenty nine Bolls of Meal to be distributed amongst them at the Rate of one Peck of Meal for every five Men a Day; for doing whereof this shall be to you a sufficient Warrant. Given in the Camp at Perth, the 29th October 1715.

MAR. 1

To Mr. Golia Simson of Whitfist, Commissary of the Stores.

YOU are hereby impowered to pay to Deacon Cowie and Wright (who are recommended as fit Men to serve under you) at the Rate of Ten-pence per Day, and to David Ruddach for each Day he has served preceeding this, Twelve-pence per Day, and Ten-pence in Time coming, and to all other ordinary Workmen you shall employ, Six-pence per Day, and to the Carters a Penny for each Load they shall carry; all your other incident Charges shall be allow.

SIR,

THE long Causey was last Night planted with Guards from Stirling; so that we can't assure ourselves of such Intelligence as formerly, unless we could fall on a Method of snaping up their Guard there, and obliging them to keep within their Bridge. Our Trumpet's seized, and my Lord Mar's Letter disregarded, which

By John Earl of Mar, &c. General, and Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Forces in Scotland.

WHereas by the Laws of God, the Right of Blood, and the ancient Constitution of these Kingdoms, Our Sovereign Lord James VIII. by the Grace of God, &c. has the only Undoubted Title to the Crown of these Realms;
And whereas His Majesty's happy Restoration is the only Way left to retrieve the unhappy Consequences of the Union, disburden the People of the heavy Taxes and Mortgages, they now groan under, and to prevent our Posterity from being involy'd in endless Miseries: And whereas many of His Majesty's Loyal Subjects, of all Ranks, have dutifully assembled themselves to the Royal Standard, in order to Restore Our Rightful Sovereign to His Crown, and these King.

Kingdoms to their Ancient and Independent State.

And I having seen an Order published by the Commander in Chief of the pretended King's Forces in this Kingdom, setting forth, That the Forces under his Command want to be augmented, and inviting all able-bodied Men to enlist themselves in that Service, and Requiring all Noblemen, Gentlemen, Justices of the Peace, Magistrates, Ministers of the Gospel, and others, to contribute their best Endeavours to persuade and encourage Men thereto: THESE ARE THEREFORE, in His Majesty's Name, Prohibiting and Discharging all Noblemen, Gentlemen, Justices of the Peace, Ministers of the Gospel, and all other Subjects, to Publish, Execute, or Obey the said Order, and that under the Highest Pain.

And whereas I have promised, in His Majesty's Name, Protection to all Ministers who behave themselves dutifully, and do not acknowledge the Elector of Brunswick as King, by Praying for him as such in their Churches and Congregations: Notwithstanding whereof several of them continue in that Abuse.

For Preventing whereof, and that they may not by so doing involve and mislead innocent or ignorant People into traitorous and seditious Practices, THESE ARE THEREFORE expressly Prohibiting and Discharging all Ministers, as well in Churches as in Meeting-houses, to acknowledge the Elector of Brunswick as King, and that upon their highest Perils. And all Officers, Civil and Military, are hereby Ordered to shut up the Church-doors where the Ministers act in Contempt hereof, and to Apprehend their Persons, and bring them Prisoners to the King's Camp, wherever it shall be for the Time. And I do by these Presents promise Protection to all such Ministers as do behave themselves dutifully towards His Majesty. And I appoint the Sheriffs and Stewarts of the several Sheriffdoms and Stewartries, and the Magistrates of Royal Burghs, furthwith to dispatch Copies hereof to the Ministers of the several Parishes within their Jurisdictions, as they shall be answerable upon their Peril. And I also Appoint the same to be intimated at each Parish-Church by the Minister, Precenter, or Reader, before Divine Service, immediately after the Minister enters the Pulpit, on the Sabbath next after a Copy hereof comes to their Hands. Given at the Camp at Pertb, this First of November, 1715.
acknow-

er of the Clans.

By Lieutenant General Gordon, Commander of the Highland Clans.

THere are ordering the Inhabitants of Glencoyon and Fossevey against the Morrow, the 5th Instant, to bring here Score Loads of Coals, for the Use of the King's Army, under Pain of present Quartering: They are to be delivered at the Sight of Mr. Drummond Baillie of this Place, or his Order: For which End Lists of the Loads, and those that bring them, are to be sent up with the first that comes.

ALEXR. GORDON.

Auchterarder, November 4. 1715.

The Gentlemen of the Parishes are to proportion them on the Parishes.

Sir,

I Send you here inclosed a Double of the Committee's Resolution, and have sent two Detachments accordingly; therefore you must take Care that Barns be got ready, and all other necessary Assistance you can give.

As to the driving of the Sheep, &c. I believe it will be your best Way to advise with Bracco in it, who, knowing the Country exactly, is the fittest Man that can be employed in that Service; But this I must leave intirely to you, who can best judge of the Matter, being upon the Spot. I need not recommend (the Necessity we are in to fill up our Magazines with all Dispatch imaginable) that you'll do the same there with you, which is absolutely necessary before we can march from this. I am, Sir, your humble Servant,

GEO. HAMILTON.

From the Camp at Perth, November 4. 1715.

For Lieutenant General Gordon.

Hunting

Huntingtoun, Friday Morning, November 4th, 1715.

Sir,

I Had yours of the Third this Morning from Perth; but not by the Person you sent. If that Party of the Enemy be gone to F. Heigens, I think it too far to send after them; Tho' the Party from Bracco might intercept them in their Return about the Abbot's-Craig, if a stronger Party do not come from Stirling to sustain them, and the Abbot's-Craig is so near the Hills, that those from Bracco could make their Retreat with Safety. I am afraid, tho' it is too late to give any Orders about this now, for they will be returned before our Party can go there, if it went not out Yesterday, or this Morning early.

I wonder what keeps Rob Roy from coming to Perth, as I ordered him. Pray send him there immediately, for I want very much to speak to him; and if there be no Alarm from the Enemy, I would have you to come to Perth Tomorrow Morning, that I may confer some Things with you, as to our March. Forward the inclosed, and I am, Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

MAR.

To Lieutenant General Gordon at Auchterarder.

SIR,

THe Earl of Mar ordered me to send you the inclosed, and desires that so far as possible these Complaints may be redressed, and expects you'll allow no such Abuses to be committed, and orders you'll take all Methods possible to keep the People under Command, that our own People may not be oppressed. This by Command above from, Sir, your most humble and most obedient Servant,

W. CLEPHANE Majr. Gen.

Camp at Perth, 8th
November 1715.

To his Excellency Lieutenant General
Gordon Commanding His Majesty's
Forces at Aucherarder.

My Lord,

LAST Night I had a Letter from my Niece Mrs. Stirling, telling me of great Abuses committed by that Part of your Lordship's Army, lying at Gleneagles; upon which I presumed to give your Lordship the Trouble of one, and designed she should deliver it herself; your Lord-

Lordship's was under her Cover; the Servant I sent was taken and search'd, the Letter taken from him; they used the Formality to deliver it to her, but withal obliged her to show it them, she being afraid of their Jealousy and Rage, put the inclosed in the Fire, for which she met with very harsh Treatment, in so much they would not allow her to give me an Answer, nor see my Servant; after all they knew not to whom the Letter was directed, neither durst she own it was to your Lordship. My Servant tells me they have shot a great many Sheep and black Cattle, plundered their Shepherds and Tenants Houses, robb'd their Household Servants, broke open Gleneagle's Closet, the Granaries, and taken what Meal they had for their Subsistence. In short poor Mrs. Stirling, who certainly wishes them very well, was in Tears, and confined to her Room. I wish from my Heart, we don't Lenity you have showed hitherto; I am sure were Sir John present he would be very earnest in begging your Lordship's Protection for his Sister; for GOD's Sake take it into Consideration, and put some Cheque upon these rude People, who will certainly bring an Odium on our Party. In the mean Time, my Lord, I humbly beg Pardon for the Importunity and Freedom, wishing your Lordship an entire and sudden Subversion of your Enemies, a long and uninterrupted Enjoyment of your Friends. I am, my Lord, your Lordship's most humble and most devoted Servant, manding at Auchterarder.

John Earl of Mar, Sr. Commander in Chief of
His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.

THese are ordering and requiring you to intimate to the several general Persons afternamed, and the Troops under yours and their Command at their Quarters aftermentioed, that notwithstanding of my former Order to you to have the Army in Readiness to be reviewed on Wednesday the Ninth, you are to order them to march on Thursday Morning from their several Quarters, to the Muir on the Westward of Auchterarder to be reviewed there early in the Morning. For doing whereof, this shall be your Warrant. Given at the Camp at Right Honourable,

SIR,

Since the Earl of Mar's Orders to you of Yesternight's Date, his Lordship has been pleased to alter the Rout of Brigadeer Ogilvy, with the four Battalions under his Command; so that instead of passing the Water by the Boats, and being this Night at Aberdeen, they are ordered to march by the Bridge of Erne, and quarter where they can most conveniently on the Road to Auchterarder, where you will find them, if occasion offer. I am, Right Honourable, your most humble obedient Servant,

W. CLEPHAN Adjt. Gen.

*To his Excellency Lieutenant General
Gordon Commanding His Majesty's
Forces at Auchterarder.*

SIR,

THere is a great Party of Dragoons past here half an Hour ago; there is a vast Number of People past, for the Man that saw them, calls calls them the whole Forces of Stirling. I think they are gone down to Fife. I pray GOD our Friends may be on their Guard; send them speedy Relief. This is all from your most humble Servant,

K.A. St. CLAIR.

Alva betwixt Two and Three.

Send this to the General in all haste.

I sent this Day to Gleneagles to tell the Commanding Officer of a great Party being past this Way, but now I hear there is Seven hundred Foot, or near about gone out. I dread our Fife Friends. Pray forward this to Perth with all haste; the Enemy heard Yesterday of your Army's being to march, some fear they are gone to Gleneagles. This is all from your humble Servant,

K.S.

It was so dark when they past we did not see, but now we hear there is Foot behind the Dragoons; the Country talks they are gone to Dumfermling.

I hear from Clackmannan, there has past a great many Dragoons there, and all the Folks at Tullibody and at Alva are gone out to assist them; they talk they are gone to Dumfermling. This is beside the Seven hundred and fifty which passed passed here, and had Foot behind them. Send Express with this to the General. This is the third Message I have sent, and am to Fife. I am your humble Servant,

K. St. C.

Alva, Tuesday Nine a-Clock.

SIR,

THis is to show your Excellency, that the inclosed carries very surprizing, and they may be very easily intercepted. Which is all from your Excellency's most humble and most obedient Servant,

J. A. GRAEME

Bracco the 8th November 1715.

Let the inclosed be shown to none, because the first Part of it ought not to be seen.

S I R,

THe Horses that I sent to Easter Glensberny's Barn-yard, did not bring off the Half of the Victual; therefore I intreat you'll order John Sbeden and Mr. Archibald Drummond to warn in from that Country, Two hundred Horses

Horses for away bringing the rest of that Barnyard; and I To-morrow being to have Use for my whole Garrison, expects you'll send a Safe-guard with them, and cause bring the said Vitual to the Park of Ardoch, where the rest are. There's no News, but great Threats from Stirling, tho' no outcoming, and as little do I expect them; they brag the Officers of the Force are come to Stirling for the Encouragement of their Men, and it was only a Troop that was lying at Falkirk, which was ordered to the Camp. I am, dear Sir, your most humble and obliged Servant,

CAUSES of a Fast indited to be kept in December 1715.

W Hereas the many gross Immoralities, and the great Dé cay of Christian Piety in this Nation provoked God Almighty to permit the late Revolution, whereby our Rightful King, and His Rightful Successors, were, contrary to the Laws of God and those of the Nation, deposed and barbarously treated; our Church stript of its civil Right and Security, and exposed to all the Injuries and Indignities which her merciless Enemies could inflict upon her, and which from Time to Time have been repeated for many Years.

Whereas God has permitted the Generality of this Nation to fall from one Sin into another, from a Contempt of his Authority, and that of His Vicegerents in Church and State into many heretical and schismatical Doctrines and Practices, yea, and into such horrid Opinions as strike at the

the very Root of all reveal'd Religion, and Christian Piety.

Whereas God has visited for these Abominations, and plagued the Nation with an extraordinary Dearth, a long, bloody and expensive War, with the Loss of the Privileges, Liberty and Independency of this ancient Nation with Bondage under a Foreign Prince, and with grievous Burthens which threatens outter Ruin to us and our Posterity, which Evils cannot be removed in an ordinary Way, but by the Restoration of our true and lawful King, without which nothing is left us, but the dismal Prospect of our Misery and Disgrace, being derived and perpetuated to succeeding Generations.

Whereas God has at this Time inspir'd many of our Nobles, Gentlemen, Burgesses and Commons, with pious Zeal and heroick Courage to assert and vindicate the Right of our native King, our Nation, and ancient legal Constitution, and that with the Hazard of their Lives, their Dignities and Estates.

Therefore 'tis the bound Duty of all within this Nation, who fear God, and have a true Regard both to their temporal and eternal Interest, with the greatest Devotion and Fervency of Spirit, and after the most publick and solemn Manner, which at this Time is practicable, to bewail and confess their own Sins and the Sins of the Nation, ardently to implore the Pardon

and Mercy of God, and that he would remove his heavy Judgment, under which the Nation groans, and avert the yet more dreadful Plagues that are in View; That He would in His Goodness restore our King, our ancient Constitution, Privileges and Liberties; That He would deliver our Church from Persecution, and establish her on righteous and solid Foundations.

Prayers were composed to be used conform.

John Earl of Mar, Esc. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.

OUR SOVEREIGN LORD James VIII. having been pleased to intrust me with the Direction of His Affairs, and the Command of His Forces in Scotland; and it being necessary for the Subsistence of His Majesty's Army, that Magazines of Meal be timely provided for that End: These are therefore, in His Majesty's Name, commanding and requiring all Heritors, Liferenters, Feuars, Wadsetters, and Proprietors of Lands whatsoever, forthwith to cause provide out of the first and readiest of their Farms, the several Quantities of Meal following, viz. Two Bolls of Meal upon each hundred Pounds Scots of valued Rent, of Lands belonging to Heritors, and others engaged in His Majesty's Service; and Four Bolls of Meal upon each hundred Pounds Scots of valued Rent belonging to Heritors and others who are not engaged therein, (the following Cases excepted) viz. All Minors, Women Liferenters unmarried, and superannuate Heritors; provided if they have Sons, that one or more of them be in the King's Service, and all sequestrate Estates in Creditors Hands, mortified Lands, Lands belonging to Communities, and Female Heirs Portioners unmarried, who are only to be singly charged. And I hereby command and require, That the several Quantities of Meal in the respective Cases aforesaid, be delivered in by the Heritors and others liable in Payment thereof, in Manner following, viz. the Meal payable forth of the Shires of Perth, Fife and Kinross, to be delivered to the Commissary for Provisions at Perth, betwixt and the Tenth Day of December next; And the Meal payable forth of the Shire of Forfar, to be delivered to the Magistrates of the Burghs of Dundee and Montrose, or to any Person or Persons to be by them appointed for that End, for whom they will be answerable, betwixt and the Fifteenth Day of December next; And the Meal payable out of the Shire of Kincardin to be delivered to the Collector of the Supply of the Shire of Kincardin at Stonehive, or to the Magistrates of Montrose, as shall be most convenient for the Heritors, and that betwixt and the said Fifteenth Day of December; And the Meal payable forth of the Shire of of Aberdeen, to be delivered at Aberdeen to the Magistrates there, or to such Persons as they shall think fit to name for receiving thereof, for whom they will be accountable, and that betwixt and the Twenty fourth Day of Décember next: And the Magistrates of the several Burghs, and other Persons hereby impowred to receive the said Meal, are required to provide proper Places in their respective Towns, fit for keeping of the same, till further Orders. And I hereby strictly prohibite and discharge the Magistrates of the respective Burghs aforesaid, from exacting any Custom, or any other Dues whatsoever, on Account of the Meal so ordered to be delivered to them; hereby declaring, That the respective Quantities of Meal already delivered, shall be allowed in full Part of the respective Quota's now imposed.

And that the Heritors and others liable to advance their respective Shares of Meal, as aforesaid, may be the better encouraged to comply herewith, I do promise, That the Receipts which shall be granted by the several Receivers, shall entitle the Persons Deliverers of the said Meal, to have the publick Credit for their respective Shares, to be repaid according to the Rates of the Country for the Time, with Interest from the Date of their Receipts, and that out of the first Funds arising from the publick Revenue of Scotland: Certifying all those who refuse to give due Obedience hereto, That the Double of the Meal imposed by this Order will be levied, and brought in for His Majesty's Use, without any Allowance or Payment to be given for the same. And I likewise strictly prohibite and discharge all Masters of Ships, and Merchants whatsoever, to export forth of the Kingdom any Meal, Bear, Malt, Wheat, Oats, or other Grain, and all Kinds of Provisions; or to transport to the Firth of Forth any of the aforesaid Kind of Grain or Provisions, during the Space of Three Months, from this Date, under the Pain of Confiscation of the Ships and Cargoes, besides imprisoning the Persons of the Contraveeners hereof. And that none may pretend Ignorance, I ordain these Presents to be printed, and published at the Market-Crosses of the Head-burghs of the several Shires, and Copies to be transmitted to the respective Parish-Churches or Meeting-houses, to be read by the Minister or Reader immediately after Divine Service. Given at the Camp at Pertb, the 24th of November, 1715. GOD Save the KING.

Yours to General Hamilton came here this Moment, and he being marched with the whole Army towards Dumblain this Night,

I

I used the Freedom on this sudden Emergent to break it up; and my humble Opinion is, so soon as this comes to your Hand, you must send up all the Provisions you can for Dumblain, for the Army will certainly be in great Want; for the Duke of Argyle with his whole Army are in Dumblain, and ours within a Mile of theirs all Night under Arms; his Number is counted not to be above Three thousand, and the Clans solely engage to give Account of them, with the Assistance of a few Horse. I am condemned with my Cargo by Earl Mar's express Orders (notwithstanding my earnest Request to the contrary) to this Place. I hope To-morrow will, with God's Assistance, give us a good and safe Passage over Forth. I shall forward yours to General Hamilton this Night; in the mean Time, for God's Sake, be active, as you value every Thing that is dear to us all. I am yours,

S I R,

I Received yours, but the Depute you thought to be here, run away upon the first Alarm, and we have been obliged to break open the Magazine at Tullibardine, as likewise this here, which latter we found empty; the Bread at Tullibardine we are giving out to the Army, for Fear of spoiling. I hope your Magazines at Perth are very full of both Meal and Bread; for if the Army should chance to come to their Neighbourhood, there will be daily very great Demands; 'tis likewise necessary, that good Magazines of Hay and Oats be also provided, which I fear has not been minded much, which must be gone about without further Delay. BEcause you receive the Meal, please know I have shipped in William Buck's Boat four Sacks, containing two Bolls each, which you

you may deliver so to the Bakers, and give William Buck the Sacks back with him, which I will take as a singular Favour, because they belong to the Earl of Pannure, whose Meal is to be sent from this in Bulk; and I sent thir four Sacks merely to make up the Boat's Freight, being disappointed of Bread to load her. You will also take the Trouble to acquaint Mr. Simpson, that there is Eight hundred and ten Loaves in this Boat, which he may receive: Our Bakers are very scarce of Fewel; but against Saturday next, I hope to send the Double. THE Committe for Provisions propone, That Forty Men of Pannure's Regiment, that have been accustomed to thresh, be sent out to Dalreoch, and ordered to cast in what Corns are standing there belonging to Glenagles, and thresh them out with all Expedition; That a Captain and two Subalterns be sent along with them to oversee the Work; and that each Man be allowed Twopence a-Day over and above his ordinary Pay for their Encouragement to work.

Also that other forty Men, with Officers be sent out to Glenagles, to thresh what Corns are standing there; and in case they cannot all be employed at once for Want of Barns and Instruments, that they relieve one another by Turns; and when the Corns are dight, that some proper Person be appointed to oversee the drying and milling of them, and to lay up the Meal that shall be produced at Tullibardine for the Use of the Army.

They likewise propone, That all the Sheep belonging to Glenagles, Tillicultry, the Dukes of Atbole and Montrose's Vassals be gathered together, and put into the Parks of Glenagles, which will be sufficient to grafs them, and kept under a Guard for the Use of the Army.

Gentlemen,

I'M informed, that you refused to give your Concurrēce to search for, and seize the Goods run by David Green and Baillie Gilmore, when required by the Officers of the Customs so to do; your Neglect herein will prejudice the King's Revenue, and encourage a smugling Trade; for preventing whereof, I do desire that you'll readily give your Assistance to the King's Officers for making the Revenue effectual, that

To

To the King's most Excellent Majesty

The humble ADDRESS of the Episcopal Clergy of the Diocese of Aberdeen, presented to His Majesty by the Reverend Doctors James and George Gardens, Dr. Burnet, Dr. Dunbreck, Mr. Blair, and Mr. Maitland, at Fetteresso, the 29th December 1715, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Mar, and by the Right Honourable the Earl Marishall of Scotland.

SIR,

WE Your Majesty's most Faithful and Dutyful Subjects, the Episcopal Clergy of the Diocese of Aberdeen, do from our Hearts render Thanks to Almighty GOD, for Your Majesty's safe and happy Arrival into this Your ancient Kingdom of Scotland, where Your Royal Presence was so much longed for, and so necessary to animate Your Loyal Subjects, our most noble and generous Patriots, to go on with that invincible Courage and Resolution, which they have hitherto so successfully exerted, for the Recovery of the Right of their King and Country, and to excite many others of Your good Subjects to join them, who only wanted this great Encouragement.

We hope and pray that GOD may open the Eyes of such of Your Subjects, as malicious and self-

self-designing Men have industriously blinded with Prejudices against Your Majesty, as if the Recovery of those just Rights would ruin our Religion, Liberties and Properties, which by the overturning of those Rights have been highly encroached upon ; And we are persuaded, that Your Majesty's Goodness will settle and secure those just Privileges to the Conviction of Your most malicious Enemies.

Almighty GOD has been pleased to train up Your Majesty from Your Infancy in the School of the Cross, in which the Divine Grace inspires the Mind with true Wisdom and Virtue, and guards it against those false Blandishments, by which Prosperity corrupts the Heart ; and as this School has sent forth the most illustrious Princes, as Moses, Joseph, and David, so we hope the same infinite, wise and good God designs to make Your Majesty, not only a Blessing to Your own Kingdoms, and the true Father of them, but a great Blessing also of the general Peace and Good of Mankind.

Your Princely Virtues are such, that, in the Esteem of the best Judges, You are worthy to wear a Crown, tho' You had not be born to it, which makes us confident, that it will be Your Majesty's Care to make Your Subjects a happy People, and to secure them in their Religion, Liberties and Property, as to leave no just Ground of Distrust ; and to unite us all in true Christianity, according to the Gospel of Jesus

fus Christ, and the Practice of the Primitive Christians.

We adore the Goodness of God in preserving Your Majesty, amidst the many Dangers to which You have been exposed: And notwithstanding the hellish Contrivances formed against You, for encouraging Assassins to murder Your Sacred Person, a Practice abhorred by the very Heathens, may the same merciful Providence continue still to protect Your Majesty, to prosper Your Arms, to turn the Hearts of all the People towards You, to subdue those who resist Your just Pretensions, to establish You upon the Throne of Your Ancestors, to grant You a long and happy Reign, to bless You with a Royal Progeny; and at last with an Immortal Crown of Glory: And as it has been, still is, and shall be our Care, to instill into the Minds of the People true Principles of Loyalty to Your Majesty, so this is the earnest Prayer of,

May it please Your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful, most dutiful, and most humble Servants and Subjects.

To

To which His Majesty was pleased to give this most Gracious Answer.

I Am very sensible of the Zeal and Loyalty You have expressed for me; and shall be glad to have Opportunities of giving you Marks of My Favours and Protection.

To the King's most excellent Majesty;

The humble ADDRESS of the Magistrates, Town-council, and others, the Loyal Citizens of Aberdeen.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE Your ever Loyal and Dutiful Subjects, the Magistrates, Town-council, and others, Your Majesty's Loyal Subjects, Citizens of Aberdeen, do heartily congratulate Your Arrival to this Your native and hereditary Kingdom. Heaven very often inhaunces our Blessing by Disappointments, and Your Majesty's safe Arrival, after such a Train of Difficulties, and so many Attempts, makes us not doubt but that G O D is propitious to Your just Cause.

As Your Majesty's Arrival was seasonable, so it was surprizing; we were happy, and we knew

knew it not; we had the Blessing we wearied for, yet insensible, till now, that Your Majesty has been pleased to let us know, that we are the Happiest: And also, we shall always endeavour to be the most loyal of,

May it please Your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most dutiful, humble, and obedient Subjects and Servants.

His Majesty's most Gracious Answer.

I Am very sensible of the Duty and Zeal you express for me in this Address, and you may assure yourselves of my Protection.

By the King a Proclamation for a publick Thanksgiving.

JAMES R.

WHereas it has pleased Almighty God to bring Us through many Dangers and Difficulties safely into this Our Ancient Kingdom; and it being Our Duty to Return Thanks in a publick Manner to His Divine Majesty for so Great a Blessing: We have therefore thought fit to issue this Our Royal Proclamation, Hereby Appointing and Commanding, That a General

neral Thanksgiving to Almighty God for so Great a Mercy; be Observed throughout all Our Ancient Kingdom of SCOTLAND, upon Thursday the 26. of January Instant: And We strictly Charge and Command; That the said Publick Thanksgiving be Reverently and Decently observed by all Our Loving Subjects in SCOTLAND, on the said 26. of January Instant, as they tender the Favour of Almighty God, and would avoid his Wrath and Indignation; and upon Pain of such Punishment as We may justly inflict upon all such as as contemn or neglect the Performance of so religious a Duty. Our Will and Pleasure is therefore, and We Charge, That incontinent this Our Proclamation seen, Ye pass to the Market-crosses of the Head-burghs of the several Shires and Stewartries, and of the several Royal Burrows and Burghs of Regality within Our said ancient Kingdom of Scotland, and all other Places needful, and there, in Our Name and Authority, make Publication hereof, that none pretend Ignorance. And Our Will and Pleasure is, That Printed Copies hereof be sent to the Sheriffs of the several Shires, Stewarts of Stewartries, and Baillies of Regalities, and their Clerks; whom We Ordain to see the same Published. And We Appoint them to send Doubles thereof to the several Parish-Churches and Meeting-houses within their Bounds, and that upon the Sunday immediately preceding the Day abovementioned, ed, the same may be published and read by the Ministers from their Pulpits, immediately after Divine Service: With Certification, if they fail herein, they shall be proceeded against with the utmost Severity.

Given at Our Court at Scoon, this Tenth Day of January, 1716. and in the Fifteenth Year of Our Reign.

By His Majesty's Command,

MAR.

By the King, a Proclamation, requiring his Majesty's Subjects to repair to his Camp.

JAMES R.

WHereas by Our Declaration, dated at Our Court at Commercy, the 25. of October, and in the 15. Year of Our Reign, We have, out of a tender Affection to Our People, Pardoned, Remitted, and Discharged all Crimes of High-Treason, Misprision of Treason, and all other Crimes and Offences whatsoever, done or committed against Us or Our Royal Father, of Blessed Memory, by any of Our Subjects, of what Degree or Quality soever, who should, at or after Our Landing, and before they engage in any Action against Us, or Our Forces, from that Time, lay Hold of Mercy, and return to that Duty and Allegiance they owe to Us, their only Rightful and Lawful Sovereign. And whereas it is not only the Duty of all Our Subjects, out of a grateful Sense of this Our Clemency, but an Obligation upon them by the Allegiance they owe to Us, and by the express Laws of the Kingdom, to repair to Our Host, when required so to do: We have therefore thought fit to issue this Our Royal Proclamation, Hereby strictly Commanding and Charging all Dukes, Marquisses, Earls, Viscounts, Lords, Barons, Heritors, Wadsetters within this Our Ancient Kingdom of SCOTLAND, and all others Our Subjects fit to bear Arms, forthwith to repair to Our Camp at Pertb, or where it shall happen to be for the Time, with their best Horses, Arms and Accoutrements; and that under the Pains contain'd in the several Laws and Acts of Parliament made in that Behalf, and incurring Our highest Displeasure. Our Will and Pleasure is therefore, and We charge you, That incontinent this Our Proclamation seen, ye pass to the Market-Crosses of the Head-burghs of the several Shires and Stewartries, and of the several Royal Burghs and Burghs of Regalities within Our said Ancient Kingdom of SCOTLAND, and all other Places needful; and there, in Our Name and Authority, make Publication thereof, of, that none pretend Ignorance. And Our Will and Pleasure is, That printed Coples hereof be sent to the Sheriffs of the several Shires, Stewarts of Stewartries, and Baillies of Regalities, and their Clerks, whom we ordain to see the same published: And we appoint them to send Doubles thereof to the several Parish Churches and Meeting-Houses within their Bounds, that the same may be published and read by the Ministers from the Pulpits immediately after Divine Service, upon the First Sunday after this comes to their Hands: With Certification, if they fail herein, they will be proceeded against with the utmost Severity.

Given at Our Court of Secon, this Tenth Day of January, 1716. and in the Fifteenth Year of Our Reign.

By His Majesty's Command,

MAR

John Duke of Mar, &c. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.

MAR.

To the Provost and Magistrates of the Town of Montrose, and the Sheriff-depute of Forfar.

To the Officers and Soldiers of the Army, at this Time in the Service of the Usurper, Greeting.

JAMES R.

WHereas We judged it necessary, by Our Royal Declaration, of the 20th of October 1715, particularly addressed to You the Officers and Soldiers of the Army, at this Time in the Service of the Usurper, to conjure You at once to close the Scene of Blood; and by declaring for Us, to Restore Your Country to a State of immediate Tranquillity, and secure her future Quiet; and did thereby give suitable Encouragement to such as should return to their Duty to Us, and do their Country so great a Service: But seeing all our good Intentions towards Our People are either endeavour'd to be con-

conceal'd, or misrepresented: We have thought fit, now, that it has pleas'd the Almighty God, to bring Us thro' so many Dangers and Difficulties in safety to Our own Dominions, to renew and augment the said Encouragements: We do therefore promise, That all Officers and Soldiers as shall quite the Usurper's Service, and repair to Our Royal Standard, or to that of any of Our Generals, or other Chief Officers declaring for Us, before they enter into any Action against Us or them, shall not only have all their Arrears which may at such Time be due to them from the Usurper punctually paid; but that the Officers shall be received into Our Service, in the same Rank (at least) which they before enjoy'd, and to the utmost of Our Power, encouraged to persist in their Duty by further considerable Rewards, conform to the Merit of their Service: And each Foot-Soldier shall have immediately paid to him the Sum of Twenty Shillings Sterling. And each Dragoon coming with his Horse, Arms and Accoutrements, Twelve Pounds Sterling. And such Five hundred as shall signalize themselves, and show their Zeal, by being the first and earliest who appear in their Duty, and come in a Body or Bodies over to Our Service, shall have the Sum of Twenty Shillings Sterling more, immediately paid unto each of them, besides what is above promised.

And as a further Encouragement to all such as shall come over to Us, We hereby Promise,

That We will take Care of, and provide for the Widows and Orphans of such of them as shall happen to be killed in Our Service.

And whereas several Foreigners are brought by the Usurper into these Kingdoms to oppose Us, and to complete the Ruin of these Countries, (as We have just Ground to believe even contrary to their own Inclinations) We do hereby Declare, That upon their coming over to Us, they shall have the same Rewards herebefore promised to Our own Subjects, and that their Pay shall be conform to the Establishment of England: And further, They shall either be employed in Garrisons, or freely transported to their own Countries, if they shall so desire.

GIVEN at Our Court at Scow, this Seventeenth Day of January 1716, and in the Fifteenth Year of Our Reign.

By His Majesty's Command,

M. A. R.

John Duke of Mar, &c. Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Forces in Scotland.

T Hese are ordering and requiring you forthwith to send up all the Meal you can to the Magazine at Perth, either by Sea or Land, which which can be done with most Expedition, and the Governor of Dundee and Sheriff-depute of Angus are hereby ordered to receive it from you at Dundee or Forfar, and summon in as many Horses from the Country as will carry it to Perth, and forward it there without Loss of Time; for doing of which, this shall be to you, and every one of you, a sufficient Warrant. Given at the Court at Scoon, this 24th January 1716.

M.A.R.

To the Governor of Dundee present Provost of Montrose and Sheriff-depute of Forfar-Shire.

A Form of PRAYER with THANKSGIVING to be us'd on Thursday, January 26. 1716, for the KING's safe and happy Landing.

Morning Prayer shall begin with the same Sentences
as the Office for the 29. of May.

After the Lord's Prayer and Suffrages, instead of the Venite Exultemus, shall be read the Hymn appointed on the 29. of May.

After which shall be read the following Psalms, Psal.
124, 126, 129, 118.

The first Lesson, II Sam. Ch. xix. Verse 9. to the End; Te Deum, &c.

The Second Lesson, St. Mark xii. from Ver. 1. to Ver. 12. Jubilate Deo, &c.

After

After the Creed, the same Suffrages as in the Office for May 29.

Instead of the First Collect for Morning Prayer, shall be used this following.

O LORD GOD of our Salvation, who hast been exceeding Gracious to this Land, and by Thy Miraculous Providence hast delivered Thy Servant, our Dread Soyereign King James, from all the Snarés and Conspiracies laid against His Most Precious Life, by unnatural and blood thirsty Men, and hast preserved Him in the Dangers of the Deep, and brought Him safely into His own Dominions, to the Comfort of all those who, in Obedience to Thy Holy Word, Fear God, and Honour the King;—We are here now before Thee, with all due Thankfulness to acknowledge Thy unspeakable Goodness herein shewed unto us, and to offer up our Sacrifice of Praise for the same, unto Thy Great and Glorious Name; Beseeching Thee to accept this our unfeigned (tho' unworthy) Oblation of our selves unto Thee; Vowing all Holy Obedience in Thought, Word and Deed, unto Thy Divine Majesty; and Promising in Thee, and for Thee, all Loyal and Dutiful Allegiance to Thine Anointed Servant, (now by Thy good Providence Restored to Us) and to His Heirs after Him. O Gracious God, Perfect what thou hast so wonderfully begun: Preserve and Defend our King from all His open and secret

cret Enemies; Protect His Person, and prosper His Arms; Place Him with Safety and Honour on the Throne of His Royal Ancestors; and restore Him to all His own Just and Undoubted Rights: O Lord bow the Hearts of all His Subjects, as one Man, to Him, that they may only contend who shall be the First to bring the King to His own House: Bless Him with Increase of Grace, Honour and Happiness in this World; and crown Him with Eternal Felicity in the World to come, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

In the End of the Litany (which shall on that Day be used) add the following Collect.

ALMIGHTY God, who hast in all Ages shewed forth thy Power and Mercy, in the miraculous and gracious Deliverances of Thy Church, and in the Protection of Righteous and Religious Kings and States, professing Thy holy and eternal Truth, from the malicious Conspiracies, and wicked Practices of all their Enemies; We yield Thee unfeigned Thanks and Praise, as for Thy many and great publick Mercies, so especially for the signal and wonderful Deliverance vouchsafed to our Most Gracious Sovereign King James, and in Him to this Church and Nation, in bringing His Majesty, thro' so many Dangers and Difficulties, to His own Kingdom, and thereby giving a Check to Re-

Rebellion, Usurpation and Tyranny, and the sad Calamities and Ruin thereupon ensuing. From all these, not our Merit, but Thy Mercy; not our Foresight, but Thy Providence; not our Arm, but Thy Right Hand and Thy Arms, and the Light of Thy Countenance, did rescue and deliver us: And therefore, not unto Us, O Lord, not unto Us; but unto Thy Name be ascribed all Honour and Glory, with most humble and hearty Thanks; by Us, and all who call upon Thee in Truth and Sincerity, Thro' Jesus Christ our Blessed Lord and Saviour. Amen.

In the Communion Service,
Instead of the Collect for the KING, use this.

O GOD of all Might and Wisdom, by whom alone Kings reign, and People are made Obedient unto them, We most humbly beseech Thee to defend thy own Ordinance in the Defence of Our injur'd Sovereign! That as Thou hast given Him a most just Title to His Father's Kingdoms; so Thou wouldst be pleased to settle Him speedily in the Rightful Possession of them. And to that End, vouchsafe O Lord to put the Spirit of Counsel and Courage, of Unity and Concord upon all that now appear to assert His Righteous Cause; and as for those that either openly oppose Him, or those strange Children that dissemble with Him, O God inactivate their Counsels and confound their Devices, turn their Hearts

Hearts to be obedient to Thee their God, and dutiful to their only Lawful King; that His Glorious Restoration to the Throne of His Fathers may be without Blood. Grant this O Merciful Father for Jesus Christ's Sake, Our only Saviour and Redeemer. Amen.

Then shall follow the first Collect
O Lord God of Our Salvation, Gt.

The Epistle Rom. xiii. from Verse 1.
to Verse 8.

The Gospel St. Math. xiii. from Verse
16. to Verse 23.

After the Prayer, For the whole State of Christ's Church, shall be used the Collect in the Office for the 29th of May.
Almighty God and Heavenly Father, Gt.

By the KING a DECLARATION.

JAMES R.

Whereas it was absolutely necessary for Our Service and the publick Safety; That the Villages of Auchterarder and Blackford should be burnt and destroyed, to prevent the far greater Inconveniencies and Hardships which must have ensued to Our Subjects, had Our Clemency and Tenderness prevailed upon Us to preserve these Places.

Places; We were therefore at last induced from the strongest Motives, tho' with the greatest Reluctancy and Unwillingness, to give Our Orders for the Effect abovementioned, which We understand since have been put in Execution. And in Regard We came into this Our ancient Kingdom, with a sincere and fix'd Intention to ease and relieve all Our Subjects in general of the Hardships and Calamities which they have laboured under for these several Years past; And being therefore most sensibly affected with the Losses and Sufferings of Our good Subjects by the Devastation of these Villages, which justly moves Our Compassion and Tenderness towards them; And being therefore resolv'd to make them suitable Reparation for the Damages they have sustained on this Occasion, and to the End they may be no Losers thereby; IT IS THEREFORE OUR WILL AND PLEASURE, That all and sundry the Persons concerned, do immediately prepare Estimates of their several Losses and Sufferings, and that they deliver the same in Writing to their several Masters, so as we may order Relief and Reparation to be made to them, for what Losses and Damages they have sustain'd in their Houses, Goods, Furniture and Corns, or any other Manner of Way whatsoever. This, We hope, will be sufficient to convince them and all the World, of the tender Regard We have for Our Subjects, and of the Part We bear in all their Sufferings.

And

And We hereby charge and command the Ministers of the several Parish Churches of Auchtermuchty and Blackford, publickly to read this Our Declaration to their several Congregations, immediately after Divine Service, the two Sundays next after the Date hereof, and Copies hereof to be affixed on the Church-doors, so as all the People concerned may have due Notice of this Our Intention towards them, and may accordingly reap the Benefit thereof. Given at Our Court at Scoon, this 26th Day of January, 1716, and in the Fifteenth Year of Our Reign.

By His Majesty's Command.

M & R.

SIR,

January 27th, 1715-16.

Yours of the 17th was long of coming to my Hand. I had it but last Night, else I had write to you e'er now. You had not it seems receiv'd one I wrote to you since I returned to this Place, which I sent under H. S. Cover; for by it you would know that I had got all yours you mention, which you had sent in my Absence, and there was nothing in them which you seem to be in Apprehension about. I hope those of whom you thought you had said some Thing of, will now act a more forward Part than they hitherto have done; they have much to answer for and ought to make Amends;

adds; but I have not yet heard any Thing of their Vigour, tho' they promise fair.

You need not have made any Apology for writing directly to me; for tis what I would have you always to do; and I'll be very glad of them.

What you have been doing amongst Switzers is very good Service, and pray continue in it. I hear some few of them are on their Way to us, which I am perswaded is owing to it. That of the Signal is good, but not near so well as coming sooner; but it is hard to come off at such a Time. I believe the Enemy have found their Marching here impracticable by a Party they sent to'ther Day to try it, and I am informed they have since sent home the Baggage Horſes they had in from the Country. 'Tis hard to tell how long the Frost and Snow may last, but if it be impracticable for them to march so long it does; I am sure it will be so for Ten Days, at least after the Thaw, and so if the Switz have a mind to come to us, they may have yet Time, by the Paper the King last published, which I suppose you have seen. There's great Encouragement given the Forreigners, which should be explained to them. A Party of ours some Days ago made some of them Prisoners, and one of them has already engaged with the King; I believe more of them will.

His M—— wishes the Person you mentioned about the Batton pointed with Iron wou'd come here, so you may let him know so. I have heard nothing of Guthrie's Wife; but what you tell me. We have two Ships from F—— lately with Officers, but they neither bring Ammunition, Arms nor Money, not even Money for those they brought, which is very odd.

I am interrupted by Accounts, that a great Detachment of the Enemy came last Night to Dumblane; so I can say no more just now, but that I am very sincerely yours.

This Letter has no Subscription nor Direction, only J. H. on the Back.

John Duke of Mar, &c. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.

THere are ordering and requiring you forthwith to summon in to the Town of Montrose all the Horses in the neighbouring Country, and to have them, and likewise all the Horses belonging to the said Town of Montrose immediately in Readiness for His Majesty's Service whenever they shall be called for; this you are to do with all possible Care and Expedition, as you will answer to His Ma-

J. H.

Jefty at your highest Peril. Given at Montrose
this 3d of February 1715-16.

To the Provost of the Town of Montrose.

*John Duke of Mar, &c. Commander in Chief of
His Majesty's Forces in Scotland.*

THEse are ordering you forthwith to deliver for the Use of Lieutenant General Shelden Five Horses, and for the Use of Major General Gaydon three Horses out of the Carriage Horses lately come to Town. Given at the Court at Montrose, the 4th of February 1715-16.

MAR.

To the Provost of Montrose.

There is a Letter from an Officer giving an Account of the King's Army after they march'd Northwards from Aberdeen, dated February 1716.
This is printed with a Letter subjoin'd, said to be written by the Duke of Mar from Avignon, April 1716, approving the said Account.

The Pretender went a Board at Montrose the 4th of February 1716, at nine a-Clock in the Evening with the Duke of Mar, and sail'd for France.
